INDICT-TENNES, O'LEARY, 6 AIDS, IN GAMING WAR

True Bills Hit at "Kings of Chance."

Indictment late yesterday of eight Chicago men, reported to be "kings of the world of chance," shook the foundations of national handbook gambling and spread panic through the Chicago gaming brotherhood, which State's Attorney Crowe has promised to exterminate.

Those named in the gambling indictments include:

Mont Tennes, alleged chief of the national racing handbook "syndicate" and known for years as the "handbook king" of the middle west; reported to be a millionaire.

H. E. Argo, lieutenant of Tennes, who chose a jail cell some years ago rather than impart information concerning the Tennes organization to a grand jury.

J. L. Morelock, manager of the General News Bureau, 931 South Dearborn street, said to be the central station for dissemination of handbook information.

James O'Leary, Chicago gambler and saloonkeeper, at present implicated in the Heller liquor inquiry.

James Ledwell, brother-in-law of O'Leary.

Martin Berlin, resort keeper.

Alvin Cooper, resort keeper, associated with the Tennes ring.

Edith O'Malley again.

In addition to the broadside of indictments, the state's attorney ordered a second raid on Pat O'Malley's gambling resort at Folk and Clark streets. O'Malley was taken in the act of "making book" over the cigar counter of his saloon, according to operative under command of Sgt. William Hudson. He was brought to the criminal court building with thirty-five minutes of his place, despite the fact he was indicted for gambling less than two weeks ago. The raiders confiscated tally sheets and a hidden telephone used in obtaining race returns. Leaders in the Tennes syndicate are charged with conspiracy under the old common law procedure, which has been the state's most effective weapon in gambling prosecutions.

Records Show Tennes "King."

They were seized some time ago when the state's attorney's men under Chief Investigator Ben Newmark raided the General News Bureau and confiscated the huge telephone switchboard, telegraph outfits and racing lists alleged to have formed the basis for handbook making in every large city in the United States.

The records that were seized, according to the prosecutor, show that Tennes was 65 per cent of the syndicate.

Tennes, Morelock, Argo, and Cooper are charged in the indictment with "conspiracy to do acts injurious to the public morals," a misdemeanor. Cooper is charged with bookmaking in a second count.

O'Leary Hit by Two Bills.

O'Leary, Ledwell, Berlin, and Ryan were hit with two indictments. The charges all four with bookmaking. The counts in the second charge the keeping of a gambling house, the operation of slot machines, card games, roulette, and bookmaking. The men were taken a week ago in a raid on O'Leary's saloon at 4183 South Halsted street.

Old timers predict the Tennes indictment will cause another "gambling war" which may spread to every large city in the United States. Tennes is wintering at Palm Beach. His associates expect the indictment will bring him back to Chicago in a hurry. All eyes are turned to the state's attorney's office for the next move. A legislative organization for the dissemination of sporting news.

Crowe Voices New Warning.

State's Attorney Crowe pointed to the O'Malley arrest as another indication that Chicago gamblers have been slow to realize the extent of his campaign to exterminate gambling.

"The moppers-up" bagged more money," he remarked. "The gamblers are convinced soon that lightning can strike twice in the same place and that we are on the square in this case."

Art O'Brien Denies He's to Marry Mrs. MacSwiney

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Art O'Brien of the Irish Self-Determination league has denied the denial of a printed report that he is engaged to Mrs. Terence MacSwiney, widow of Lord Mayor of Cork. Mr. O'Brien says the report probably was started for the purpose of annoying Mrs. MacSwiney.

MAN SLAIN AS MANY DANCE IN 'LITTLE BOHEMIA'

Gun Battle Fought as Patrons Flee.

Dozens of couples were toddling on the dance floor in the Little Bohemia cabaret at 1732 Blue Island avenue at 10:30 o'clock last night when the jazz orchestra was interrupted by the staccato of revolver shots coming from the saloon on the other side of a thin partition. The patrons rushed to the street.

Patrolmen from the Maxwell street station, arriving at the place a few moments later, found Timothy W. Mulvihill, a former policeman, unconscious on the saloon floor with a bullet wound in the head. James Keane of 4717 South Laflin street, suffering from a scalp wound inflicted with the butt of a revolver, was standing with hands upraised and gazing into the muzzle of a pistol held by Frank Lake, proprietor of the place.

Patrolmen from the Maxwell street station, arriving at the place a few moments later, found Timothy W. Mulvihill, a former policeman, unconscious on the saloon floor with a bullet wound in the head. James Keane of 4717 South Laflin street, suffering from a scalp wound inflicted with the butt of a revolver, was standing with hands upraised and gazing into the muzzle of a pistol held by Frank Lake, proprietor of the place.

Saloon "Shot Up."

The mirror back of the bar had been shattered by a bullet which struck a little higher than a man's head. The woodwork in other parts of the saloon had been splintered by shots.

Mulvihill was rushed to the county hospital, where he died. Lake, Keane, Bobby Long, bartender, and his nephew, George Druggan, were taken to the Maxwell street station and questioned by Lieut. Sylvester Cotto.

Lake declared Mulvihill, Keane and two other men who escaped had rushed into the saloon and attempted to hold him up. He grabbed his revolver, shot Mulvihill and grabbed Keane as the other two fled, he said.

Denies Holdup Attempt.

Keane denied there had been any attempt at a holdup. He admitted he had not worked for seventeen months. He said he had been gassed in France and was drawing $8 a month from the government. He was returning from a visit to a sick friend, he said, and was waiting for a car at Eighteenth street and Blue Island avenue when he saw Mulvihill enter the saloon.

"I have known Tim ever since he was a boy," he said, "and I would see him. I had barely stepped into the vestibule when somebody cracked me over the head with a gun."

Druggan, who was standing in front of the bar when the men entered, told the police he did not believe they intended to rob the place, but had come there "to get somebody."

"The men began shooting almost before they got inside," he said. "I didn't hear any command to stick up my hands. The first thing I knew bullets were flying."

Discharged from Force.

Mulvihill was identified by means of a permit issued by First Deputy Alvin Cooper, empowering him to purchase a revolver. Mulvihill formerly was attached to the Cottage Grove avenue station, but was transferred to Stanton avenue just before he was discharged from the force last November. He resides at 214 West Sixty-seventh street.

LATIN-AMERICAN WAR IS LOOMING; APPEAL TO U. S.

PANAMA, Feb. 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—An angry crowd of Panamanians tore the Costa Rican coat of arms from that nation's consulate here last night and trampled it under foot.

The incident followed a demonstration against Costa Rica which came as a sequel to the invasion of Panama territory by Costa Rican forces, reports of which were confirmed at the presidential offices, which gave out telegrams stating that Coto, in the province of Chiriqui, had been occupied by Costa Rican forces.

An appeal has been made to the United States to settle the dispute and avoid bloodshed.

HURL BOMB NO. 3 AT BAKER WHO CUT BREAD PRICE

For the third time within a month the bakery of Benjamin Schachter at 1442 North Maplewood avenue was last night the target of a dynamite bomb. All three bombs had followed a reduction of 1 cent in the price of a loaf of bread made a month ago by Schachter.

He declared at the time that he made the reduction and at the time had seen through the transom over a rear door. It failed to pass through the opening, exploding outside, shattering windows in the bakery and adjoining buildings and demolishing a woodshed. Persons within half a mile were awakened by the explosion.

Mrs. Schachter told the police that she had left the store shortly before the explosion and at the time had seen two men loitering near the rear of the shop.

BANK OFFICIAL, TOLD TO RESIGN, KILLS HIMSELF

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 24.—(Special.)—William B. Bassett, vice president of the Phoenix National bank, committed suicide today by shooting himself in the right temple at his home on Kenyon street.

President Leon P. Broadhurst had called for his resignation this afternoon for "conduct unbecoming an officer of the bank."

"Mr. Bassett broke down," Mr. Broadhurst said, "completely when he learned nothing short of his resignation would be satisfactory. It could not be foreseen that would drive him to take his life."

Epidemic of Smallpox on U. S. Warship Mississippi

ABOARD U. S. S. NEW MEXICO, Feb. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—A mild epidemic of smallpox has broken out on the dreadnaught Mississippi of the Pacific fleet. Twenty-four members of the vessel's complement, actual or suspected sufferers from the disease, have been landed and transferred to the Canal Zone hospital at Ancon. Medical officers regard the situation as well in hand.

Illinois Farmer and Wife Found Murdered in Home

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 24.—The bodies of Jarve Gindrich, wealthy farmer, and his wife, were found in their home at Toulon, Ill., when sheriff's officers battered down the doors tonight. Her head had been cut and her throat cut. He had been killed with a shot gun.

BANISHED OUIJA, TREATED KINDLY, NABS AUTO THIEF

Regains Motor, Fails Doubting Thomases.

For months Mrs. Edwin A. Watson of 1629 Emerson street, Evanston, had not been on speaking terms with the astral smart set. Her ouija board, forsaken and forlorn in a dusty recess of the attic, had almost succumbed to sleeping sickness.

Well, Mr. Watson's brand new $5,000 limousine disappeared. He notified the police. They failed to find it. He retained a private detective.

Ditto. The mystery was baffling. He had about resolved to buy a flivver, and was preparing yesterday morning at the breakfast table to convey the news as sympathetically as possible to Mrs. Watson, when celestial fate intervened.

"I wonder," Mrs. Watson was musing for the thousand and first time, "I wonder who stole that car?"

She dropped the grapefruit spoon. She tossed her napkin on the table. She clasped her hands. Her eyes lighted.

Ouija to the Rescue.

"Ed, dust off the ouija board," and telephone the chief of police. My fingers tingle. It's a call. Hurry! We're going to find him. I feel it."

Mr. Watson executed both commands. Mrs. Watson had just poised her fingers to receive the long distance cosmic call when Chief Charles W. Leggett arrived.

"Who stole our auto, ouija?" asked Mrs. Watson.

The disembodied party at the other end of the line must have been wintering up around the Pielades or back of the moon, because the answers were delivered haltingly. Sometimes it almost stuttered. Eventually Mrs. Watson's fingers spelled out:

"Charles Yatez."

Mr. Leggett, who doesn't believe in Santa Claus or spirits, blinked.

"Who's he?" he asked.

"Who's he, ouija?" repeated Mrs. Watson.

"It's him," the board is said to have replied.

"It's he," Mrs. Watson explained. "Apparently that's all we can get right now."

Mr. Yatez is found.

Mr. Leggett cranked the police siren and fared forth to find Charles Yatez. Just west of the Davis street viaduct he encountered a limousine that

COMBINE ROADS, CUMMINS' PLAN; HARDING'S, TOO?

Will Offer Bill Creating 14 or 18 Systems.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—American railroads are heading straight into government ownership where they will land soon unless they succeed in reducing their cost of maintenance and operation within the next year.

This was the prediction made today by Senator Cummins of Iowa, chairman of the senate committee on interstate commerce and one of the authors of the Cummins-Each transportation act. Mr. Cummins has just returned from Florida, where he spent two weeks with President Elect Harding, with whom he discussed the railway crisis and the policy of the new administration in dealing therewith.

Immediately after the new congress convenes, probably on April 4, Senator Cummins will introduce a bill to amend the Cummins-Each law so as to compel the consolidation of the railroads into fourteen or eighteen systems. The senator asserted this step was necessary to save the roads from government ownership.

Defends Cummins-Each Bill.
The Iowa senator defended the Cummins-Each bill which has been the target of criticism in the senate. He admitted that it had proved a failure, but he said that the present plight of the railroads was serious, but attributed their condition to the business and industrial depression which he said had caused a tremendous reduction of traffic.

"When industry and business get back to normal, he feels confident that the railroads, by curtailment of expenses, will be able to earn the five and a half percent return on their valuation without additional rate increases. He recalled that in 1917, with rates considerably lower than they are now, the railroads earned about 6 per cent.

"I want to make it clear, however, he said, that the reduction in the cost of railroad operation must not fall wholly on the employees. The railroads have not been economical in their operation. They must bear a large share of the reduction. All the same, as prices fall, wages must follow to some extent. I do not believe that wages should go back to pre-war levels by any means.

Wage Standardization a Mistake.
The standardization of wages put into effect on the railroads by Mr. McAdoo when he was director general has proved a big mistake. It has caused a general revision of the wage scale along more equitable lines.

"On the side of the railroads there must be a willingness to bear a large share of the necessary reduction of maintenance and operation. I believe that a good many railroad men are beginning to see that the consolidation plan which they opposed when the bill was before the senate before is now their salvation. In my opinion it is the only thing that can save the roads from government ownership and as soon as the next session begins I am going to propose a bill to compel them to consolidate into from fourteen to eighteen systems. This will be a long step in the direction of more economical operation."

Favors Regional Organization.
Another money saving device which the railroads must put into effect, Senator Cummins believes, is the organization of the country into regions four or five in number for the purchase of supplies and material. Roads in each region should appoint a committee which would be able to eliminate much costly competitive purchasing and save the railroads vast sums annually, he contends.

Senator Cummins believes that the peak of prices on all railroad supplies and materials has been passed and that big economies in buying are in sight. For instance, he believes it will be possible for the railroads to save at least $100,000,000 on fuel alone during the next year.

He has received reports also that traffic is showing signs of revival. The tonnage for February is showing a considerable increase over that of January, he said.

INAUGURAL DAY PLANS GIVEN OUT BY COMMITTEE
Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—President Wilson will follow the long established custom of riding to the capitol with the incoming president on March 4, it was announced today at the White House.

Four troops of cavalry will escort the president and the president elect to the capitol and then will accompany Mr. Harding to the White House. The plans of the congressional committee provide for the opening of the day's program with a visit of the committee chairman to the president elect and vice president elect, Mr. Coolidge, at the New Willard hotel.

There the entire party will enter automobiles and, accompanied by the cavalry, drive to the White House, where it will be joined by the president and Mrs. Wilson.

Mr. Harding will take the oath in a grand thirty feet square which has been erected on the steps. This will be followed by the president elect, Chief Justice White, the members of the congressional committee, and a few others.

LANDLADY KEEPS RENT PAYMENT; SENT TO JAIL

Judges Delay Action on Tenants' Plea.

A landlady-tenant controversy brought before Judge John R. Caverly in the Municipal court yesterday resulted in Mrs. Pearl Smith, owner of a dwelling at 3143 Warren avenue, being held to the grand jury on a larceny charge.

Harry D. Stops of 2413 Fulton street was the complaining witness. He testified he had rented rooms from Mrs. Smith Feb. 15, but that she had later refused to give him possession, or to return a payment of $45.

When Stops produced a receipt for the money paid, Judge Caverly told the defendant she would have to return the $45 or go to jail. Mrs. Smith, held on $1,000 bonds, spent last night in the county jail.

Appeals to Judges.
J. R. Patterson, president of the Chicago Tenants' Protective league, made an impassioned appeal to the judges of the rules committee of the Municipal court yesterday afternoon for the abolition of the rule classifying tenant-landlord eviction cases as emergency matters. He pleaded that this action would give the tenants an even opportunity with landlords pending the enactment of anti-rent profiteering legislation at Springfield.

Mr. Patterson's plea was attacked by Attorney John M. Vette of the Chicago Real Estate board, who classified all the efforts of the tenants and legislators to bring relief to suffering apartment dwellers as quick remedies. He charged that the proposals of the tenants' organization constituted criminal conspiracy.

"The tenants—a lot of them—don't want to pay rent," began Mr. Vette. "They have no defense. Landlords have a right to the possession of their property. The demands of this tenants' organization and the proposed legislation are quick remedies. They are interfering with the real remedy, which is building, preventing it because they scare capital away from investing."

"What they propose is criminal conspiracy. Landlords have a right to their property at any time they want it."

No Decision Made.
Although making no decision, Chief Justice Olson, speaking for the committee, stated that forcible detainer cases have been regarded as summary actions in the courts of every state in the union. He said that the practice act which requires courts to place all cases at the bottom of court calendars was not adopted by the Municipal court, which secured its powers by special act of the legislature.

The committee will meet again at 2 o'clock this afternoon before making its recommendations, which will be given to the entire personnel of the court for final action at 4 p. m.

Augustus S. Peabody, vice chairman of the Chicago real estate board's anti-rent profiteering committee, announced that the zoning plan at which time recommendations would be completed by the subcommittee for approval or amendments tomorrow. He said that the decisions of the committee would be made public at which time they will be submitted to the entire board.

Makes Cut in Rents.
M. Peterson of 1505 North Rockwell street, owner of an apartment building at 1745 Humboldt boulevard, yesterday notified Joseph F. Peacock, city real estate agent, that he is reducing the rents of his four room apartments from $65 to $60 and of his five room apartments from $85 to $70.

An Edgewater branch of the Chicago Tenants' Protective league was organized last night at the Swift school, Winthrop and Thorndale avenues.

Speakers by the league will address the Rogers Park branch of the organization at a meeting to be held tonight in the auditorium of the Eugene Field school, North Ashland and La Salle avenues.

Crowe's Men Raid Burnham Again; Find Places Shut
Acting on a tip that Burnham, raided two weeks ago, had "opened up again" detectives sent out from the state's attorney's office visited the town last night. They made the rounds of once notorious places—the Burnham Bay Inn, the Perfecto Inn, the Cottage Inn and the Speedway Inn. At all excepting the last named doors and dark windows confronted them. Two women were taken from the Speedway Inn. They are being held at Lawndale hospital. The former raid netted 200 prisoners among whom were nearly 50 women.

Harding Never to Recognize Soviets—Spargo
The Harding administration will never, in his opinion, recognize the present soviet government in Russia, but will conclude an early peace with Germany, John Spargo yesterday told members of the City club at his luncheon.

Mr. Spargo, who quit the Socialist party during the war and supported the government's policy, spoke on "What Should Be the Next Administration's Policy Toward Soviet Russia?" He spent several months in the former country of the czar, returning to America in November.

In an address last night at Temple Judea, 1227 Independence boulevard, on "Bolshevism and the Jew," Mr. Spargo said it was ridiculous to attempt to brand bolshevism as a product of the Jew and declared that to attempt to do so was to clash with all facts and history.

PARIS JEWELER LOSES $30,000 SUIT FOR PEARLS
Memphis, Mich., Feb. 24.—Maurice Hertog, Paris jeweler, lost suit here today for $30,000 worth of pearls which he sought to recover from the former Baroness Mae Van Pellant, now Lady Allen of Ireland, and in addition was assessed $2,000 costs, while counsel for Lady Allen threatened to sue for $150,000, charging the jeweler has defamed their client's character. She was a beauty of this city, who married Baron Van Pellant, a Dutch nobleman, from whom she later was divorced.

It was said in court here the pearls were a present from Dr. Villers Appleby of St. Paul, Minn., to whom the former baroness was said to have been engaged after her divorce. Legal complications incident to that, it was said, prevented their marriage.

Later, it was said, Hertog got judgment against Dr. Appleby in London and the doctor sued his former fiancée for the necklace or its cash equivalent, but settled out of court. Hertog then was engaged to the doctor's daughter, but the case has been pending four years and evidence was presented chiefly by deposition.

The defendant is the wife of Lord Powerscourt Allen of Allen county, Ireland, according to a relative, Lord Edward Morrissey, one of her counsel in court today.

REAL ESTATE IN EUROPE TO HELP PAY DEBT TO U. S.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—After a hot debate the house today adopted a senate amendment to the bill providing for the purchase of embassy sites and buildings abroad and the charging off of any of the nations from which the sites are obtained.

Republicans and Democrats alike declared the proposal was the "most monstrous thing" ever put before congress. They said it was beneath the dignity of the United States and would be the entering wedge for other trades by foreign countries, which soon would be offering barren islands to wipe their ledgers clean.

JURY PUTS MISS TOWNSEND IN DOCTORS' HANDS

Sent to the Psychopathic Hospital.

Miss Marian Townsend was sent to the psychopathic hospital last night at the orders of Dr. William Hickson for an indefinite stay. The verdict of a coroner's jury which conducted an inquest into the death of her grandmother, Mrs. Nancy Chamberlin, whom she and her mother buried in their back yard, was responsible.

The verdict was that Mrs. Chamberlin came to her death from natural causes. The jury recommended that both Miss Townsend and her mother, Mrs. Achsah Townsend, be "placed under the observation of brain specialists." The verdict, in part, read:

"Evidence presented to this jury indicates that both these women are in a mental condition, either insane or on the borderland of insanity. We recommend to the police that they be placed in the psychopathic ward of the county hospital."

Girl Is Indignant.
Miss Townsend was indignant when Deputy Coroner Charles F. Kennedy read the verdict.

"How long must we stay there?" she asked angrily.

"That is up to the doctors," the deputy coroner replied. "I don't know." The only witnesses at the inquest concluded yesterday were Frederick James Townsend, brother of the girl, and the girl herself.

Miss Townsend Defiant.
When Miss Townsend took the witness chair she said in a defiant manner that she had on previous occasions told the "full and entire truth" regarding the death and burial of her grandmother.

Mrs. Achsah Townsend, mother of the girl, has already been under observation at the psychopathic ward. Officials there declared her suffering from a "harmless form of insanity" and said she was to be released. It is believed both women will ultimately be placed in the custody of friends and relations who are to "take them away."

TURKEY, GREECE TO ADOPT ALLIED RULINGS, "IF—"

Big 4 Switch Near East
Mess on Sidetrack.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.
LONDON, Feb. 24.—The whole question of revision of the Sevres treaty will be sidetracked to an investigation commission of allied experts, it was decided tonight by the allied supreme council.

After having heard Premier Katopoulos state the Greek claims in response to the Turkish statement of evances which was read this morning
the Big Four—Lloyd George, Bismarck, Stora, and Hyashi—held a private meeting late this evening.

Just before 8 o'clock tonight they announced that the council would summon the Turks and Greeks separately tomorrow morning and ask each the following questions:

"Are you prepared to accept the result of an investigation by an allied commission regarding Smyrna and Thrace, and subject to the decision of that commission, will you accept the remaining terms of the Sevres treaty?"

"Will Accept Verdict 'If—'"

Premier Katoopoulos afterward at his hotel said Greece was entirely willing to abide by the results of an impartial investigation provided it was based on the present situation and not upon the war conditions.

Both Tewfik Pasha and Samy Bey, heads of the Turkish delegations, announced their willingness tonight to accept the verdict of a competent investigating board if they were assured it would recognize the Turkish majority of population in the disputed areas.

Both factions are eager to start for-time, the Greeks hoping to organize and colonize the districts and the Turks are expecting the support of Harding when he takes office for the real internationalization of the Dardanelles instead of favoring Greek-British domination.

France Scores Over Britain.
Tonight's decision of the big four marks a French diplomatic victory over the British, as Prime Minister Lloyd George hitherto consistently has refused even to discuss revision of the Sevres treaty.

"This evening the British prime minister placed himself on record as willing to change the two most important clauses, those relative to Thrace and Smyrna, if the Greeks are willing to abide by the findings of the allied investigation committee."

"An impartial investigation, it is believed, surely would report in favor of the Turks, as during the peace conference in Paris the American military and civilian investigators reported to Frank Folke that both Thrace and Smyrna were overwhelmingly Turkish and declared that to award the province to Greece would be a gross injustice. Neutral statistics corroborated the American findings."

BERLIN SEES STORM AHEAD.
BERLIN, Feb. 24.—Questioned today at the economic council as to whether it would give the German people's unanimous "no" to the London conference, Dr. Siroz, the foreign minister, said:

"We undoubtedly shall have to face an extraordinarily violent storm in London, for the Paris decisions [with regard to reparations] do not constitute demands which have been advanced at random. They have come into being as a result of fierce conflicts, and, I believe, in great haste, in order to meet the absolute necessities of the financial and economic situation of our opponents."

"In drafting our counter proposals we must reckon on the unity of our opponents."

AUTOIST GIVES LIFE TO AVOID KILLING MAN ON MOTORCYCLE

Floyd Hayes, 31 years old, vice president of the Jefferson Park Coal company, was instantly killed last night when he sacrificed his own safety to avoid a collision with a motorcyclist at Linder and Lawrence avenues.

FLOYD HAYES.
George Jacques of 4758 Lotus

accident, declared that in an effort to avoid hitting Mueller Hayes turned his machine sharply to the right. It turned turtle, pinning him underneath. He was dead when the machine was lifted. He left a wife and two small children.

Leslie Olmstead of the Edgewater Beach hotel was held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter yesterday day by a coroner's jury which investigated the death of Cazalier Council, 40 years old, of 3743 South Dearborn street. Witnesses said that after knocking down Council at Thirty-seventh street and Grand boulevard Olmstead sped away without stopping.

Another coroner's jury freed Mrs.
Marie Humel of 4503 North Eldorado avenue for all responsibility for the death of Mrs. Jennie Schiller, killed when she ran in front of Mrs. Humel's auto at Kimball and Leland avenues.

Accidental death due to shock and injuries was the verdict of a coroner's jury at an inquest into the death of Mrs. Lewis Tallmadge, mother of Thomas Tallmadge, the architect. Mrs.
Tallmadge was killed Wednesday night
by an automobile driven by John M.
Henderson of Wilmette. The accident occurred at Davis street and Judson avenue, Evanston.

GOTHAM POLICE INSPECTOR HIT BY INDICTMENT

New York, Feb. 24.—[Special.]— Chief Inspector William J. Lahey, the highest officer of the permanent force of the police department, was indicted today on evidence presented to the grand jury by ex-Gov. Charles S. Whitman. Lahey is charged with accepting an unlawful gratuity of $50 in behalf of Detective Sergeant George J. Andrews of the automobile squad, indicted with Lahey. Detectives George M.
Scott and William B. O'Connor of the automobile squad also were indicted.

The Lahey deal involves a reward for recovery of a stolen auto and it is held that only the police commissioner has authority to authorize the acceptance of rewards.

The law provides that rewards shall be allowed only for "extraordinary" and "meritorious service" and that 10 per cent of them shall be paid in to the police pension fund.

Sentence of sixty days in jail was imposed on City Controller Craig today by Federal Judge J. M. Mayer on charges of contempt of court.

Craig's case rests on a letter in which he is quoted as saying Judge Mayer
"stood between the people and the truth" in the Brooklyn Rapid Transit receivership. A writ of habeas corpus was sued for immediately on behalf of Craig, who, being seized, was paroled until Tuesday, when argument on the writ will be heard.

GERMANS CLAIM BELGIUM IGNORED TREATY PLEDGES

Two Tiny Counties May Imperil the World.

The Tribune today prints the last of a series of six articles prepared by a correspondent of the New York World on conditions in the occupied and liberated areas of the Rhine region.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
[Copyright, 1921, By The Press Publishing Company (The New York World).]
LONDON, Feb. 24.—Most Americans probably never heard of two tiny and in every way insignificant counties tucked away on the border between Germany and Belgium. On a map of Europe in a school atlas the districts of Malmédy and Eupen show as about the size of a house fly. But this small and poor region may some day peril
the peace of the world.

Belgium asked at Paris in 1919 for these two German counties. President Wilson objected, as he knew the population was predominantly German.
The Belgians assured him the people would welcome annexation, and offered to hold a plebiscite and leave the ultimate disposition of the two counties to the league of nations. This scheme the president accepted. This plebiscite was held in 1920.

Counties Go to Belgium.
The league of nations has ruled that since only some 400-odd out of 60,000 people signed protests against annexation the counties should be Belgian, and Belgium they are.

The World correspondent, having investigated the conditions under which this plebiscite was held, is able to say,
without the slightest possibility of effective contradiction, that no American ward boss ever dared perpetrate such a farce as the "plebiscite" here last year.

In a note dated July 16, 1919, the allied governments informed the German government that "the decision of the inhabitants is to be obtained under conditions which safeguard the entire freedom of voting," and that the districts should be united to Belgium only if the union obtained support from the population.

In Eupen the correspondent could find no Belgian who would claim more than 600 fellow countrymen in that county, or one-fiftieth of the population. Yet in six months only 212 Eupenians signed the register of protest. In Malmédy the correspondent was told the number was "insignificant—200 or 300."

Why Protests Were Few.
The reason for such a vote, on investigation, became clear. Two documents were shown by the correspondent at the Belgian commissariat for the Malmédy district, and the acting district commissioner did not deny their authenticity, and defended them.
The Belgian commissioner, L. de Smet, circulated on Feb. 25 last year a circular order to the mayors of the cantons reading:

"Those persons who have signed the lists of protest against Belgium's re-annexation of the new districts are to be deprived of the following privileges:
1. Change of the mark. 2. Reception of Belgian food supplies. 3. Passports to Belgium and the three language stamp. 4. Export permits and other permits."

Eupen is a country suburb of Aix-la-Chapelle. Every day 3,000 men and women workers go by trolley to work in the mills of Aix. They are paid in German marks. At the frontier the trolley is stopped and Belgian officials inspect the passports of the passengers. These documents must bear the "three language stamp," the circular indorsement of the allied armies of occupation. Without it, the Eupener cannot go to Aix; he must go back to Eupen, where there is no work.

Must Use Belgian Money.
Only Belgian money, by order, is legal tender in Eupen and Malmédy.
Since nearly one-quarter of the inhabitants draw their pay in marks across the German border, they must get marks turned into Belgian francs to buy anything at home. This is done for them, and at a generous rate of exchange, by the Belgian authorities.
Proof that this edict was actually applied and also that it was openly approved by the Belgian government was furnished the correspondent. This also he verified from Belgian officials, who were polite but mildly surprised and a little hurt that now, when "everything is settled," their actions should be investigated.

Germans who wanted to sign the registers came from many country districts, spending several hours on the way. Most of them had trains to catch and get back the same day.
What chance many of them had to vote may be judged from the following account from a German who put in half a day in a vain effort to sign his name:

"I got to the office at 9:30 in the morning and stood there until noon, when the office closed until 2. Then I had to go home. During all that time only half a dozen persons were admitted. Half an hour on the average was spent in trying to discourage each from protesting."

Says Belgium Played Safe.
Belgium played it safe. Even without the threats the voting was so conducted that in Malmédy county, under this too liberal estimate, only 5,075 out of 18,859 qualified residents could have voted had all been courageous enough to try to do so. Further comment on how the peace treaty commission to President Wilson's "self-determination" point was carried out in Malmédy and Eupen by Belgium is not necessary. The league of nations has pronounced that the plebiscite gives no reason to reconsider the Belgian annexation.

The correspondent, after talking with persons of all parties, estimates that if there were an honest secret ballot of the whole population, voting under American or British control and free from terror, about one-sixth would vote for union with Belgium and the others for readmission to Germany.

German, with Gun, Tries to Call on Former Kaiser

DOORN, Holland, Feb. 24.—A German youth armed with a revolver, according to reports current here today, slipped through the guards about the home of the former German emperor yesterday, but was caught inside the grounds.

Our House In Order

We Have All Been Through a Trying Experience

We, like every other merchant, found ourselves in October with very heavy stocks and the bottom falling out of prices. The losses to wholesalers, and retailers as well, was sickening.

The pendulum always swings too far in either direction. Prices were ridiculously high. The necessity of merchants turning their merchandise into cash made them ridiculously low—very much below the cost of reproduction. To be frank, the public hasn't realized this; there are many who imagine that prices are normal, when, as a matter of fact, the prices of the last sixty days represent millions and millions of loss.

It is self-evident that you can't pay a woman making neckwear fifty dollars a week, that used to get fifteen, and produce neckwear at old prices; you can't pay the clothing worker fifty, seventy-five, and more, a week, that used to make twenty, and produce clothing at prices of 1913. Of course, there will be some reductions in the price of labor; they will be moderate. Hence, the price of merchandise will be midway between the extreme high prices of a year ago and the terribly low prices of the last three months.

Realizing that a smash had to come, this firm was the pioneer in making a real, genuine effort to bring retail prices to correspond with the reductions of the wholesaler, even though the wholesaler's reductions were below cost of replacement.

Our motive was two-fold—the selfish one of getting our own house in order—the idealistic notion that we could contribute in a small way to the moving of stocks so that others might be purchased, to the end that the mills might keep working.

The public responded in no uncertain terms. We never expected to reach again the business of December, 1919. We surpassed it by over fifty per cent. We cleaned our own shelves and we made room for other merchandise. We did our job and did it well.

The shelves of our six stores are as clean of past season's merchandise as a newly-swept floor. Every one of our stores is ready with its complete new season's stock.
The prices are based on an honest profit for honest merchandise and a personal service that we are vain enough to imagine isn't given by any other firm in America.

STATE CONTROL OF MOVIES PUT BEFORE WOMEN

Legislative Forum Opens at Congress.

The Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs opened its legislative forum yesterday in the gold room of the Congress hotel.

With fourteen addresses scheduled for the day the women heard pleas made for movies in the schools, a higher rate of taxation for the upkeep of public libraries, appropriations for the feeble minded, for farm colonies, child welfare, public health, mothers' pensions, and the rehabilitation of fighters and civilians handicapped through disease and wounds.

Asks Aid for Wounded.
Dr. Harry E. Mock, formerly a colonel in the army medical corps and now of St. Luke's hospital staff, spoke for the rehabilitation of the nation's handicapped.

Dr. Mock put his plea in the form of a platform for the disabled soldiers. It was:

"Once more to be useful; to see the eyes of my friends replaced by consideration; to work, produce, provide—seeking no favors and given none; a man among men in spite of the handicap."

Would License Movies.

A licensing system to replace the censorship of the movies was one of the more important considerations brought before the women. A bill drawn by Mrs. Guy Blanchard, chairman of the nation picture committee, provides for the establishment of a department at Springfield to inspect and license films shown in Illinois and to refuse licenses to objectionable films.

Mrs. F. R. May made a plea for the instruction of children in the public schools with the aid of motion pictures such as those produced by the Society for Visual Education of the University of Chicago.

Miss Grace Dixon, chairman of the legislative committee, presided at the meeting and will conduct those of today.

The meeting will close this afternoon with the drawing up of a number of resolutions to be acted upon by the women in attendance, who number about 100, the majority being from other cities and communities of the state.

Speaker Locked in Room.

Mrs. Ernest B. Griffin, chairman of the Republican women's state committee, was to have addressed the meeting, but failed to appear. Later she laughingly explained that the maid on her floor of the Congress hotel had double-locked the door of her room while she was inside. When it was time to speak she found herself a prisoner, and it was some time before she could get out.

SLEEP SICKNESS COMMUNICABLE, DUE TO MICROBE

New York, Feb. 24.—(Special.)—Sleeping sickness is communicable, and the many varied manifestations of the disease are due to a microbe, declared Dr. Simon Flexner of the Rockefeller institute today at the New York academy for women and children.

And, added the doctor, it is not exclusively correct to call the disease lethargic encephalitis, since frequently it does not display the sleep symptom. Then, and more recently of late, the disease produces excessive wakefulness, restlessness, and delirium. Because of its variable course, Dr. Flexner suggested it be named "epidemic encephalitis."

WIFE SUES FOR DIVORCE FROM H. M. HARRIMAN

Newport, R. I., Feb. 24.—(Special.)—Mrs. Herbert Melville Harriman, it became known today, has filed suit here for divorce from her millionaire husband, cousin of the late E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate. The petition was sealed. The case will come into court in about ten days.

Mrs. Harriman divorced her second husband, Maj. Charles Spencer Hall, a retired British army officer, in Newport in 1906. Her first husband, C. Robert Stevens, died in 1895, leaving her a great fortune. She was married to Mr. Harriman in 1903.

Mr. Harriman was at one time a leading gofer in this country, having won the amateur championship of America at Chicago in 1899. He also won the Metropolitan championship in that year.

He was twice married; his first wife, who was Miss Isabelle Hunnewell of Boston, divorced him in 1906. At one time he was a railroad clerk at $15 a week in the Union Pacific offices at Omaha.

Fire Burns Masterpiece in Italian Cathedral

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
MILAN, Feb. 24.—The image of the Holy Virgin in the cathedral church of the Holy House at Loreto, Italy, has been destroyed by fire. At the same time diamonds valued at many millions of lire were destroyed. The image, which was made of Lebanon cedar, was richly studded with jewels and was considered to have been one of the world's greatest masterpieces. It stood in a niche in a small stone building. Subsequently the cathedral was built around it.

87 OFFER TO WED LONESOME SWAIN OF OL' KENTUCKY

Man Here Asks Judge to Help Home Folk First.

Ever since Judge Joseph Sabath of the Superior court announced the receipt of a letter from a Kentucky swain asking aid in finding a wife the judge has been bombarded with mail from Chicago women anxious to win the southerner's hand.

The outstanding appeal came yesterday in a letter from the "L. Q. P. H. club." It explains that the full name of the organization is "Left on Papa's Hands," and places the entire membership on the matrimonial market.

Last night Judge Sabath had received eighty-seven letters. All extolled the writers' charms and asked for a judicial recommendation to the Kentuckian, Harry Kelly of Georgetown. Young girls, widows, old women who the judge says ought "to know better," and two married women were among the writers.

All Sure They Qualify.
Most of the Julietts expressed confidence in their ability to prove all that Harry Kelly wrote Judge Sabath he expected in a wife, chiefly "a knowledge of a frying pan."

Believing charity should begin at home, George Jennings—the judge refused to make his address public except for the past few weeks.

cept to say he lived on North La Salle street—wrote in this manner:
"Dear Judge: I have just read about the chap from Kentucky. Well, why not help out somebody right here at home? I have been waiting for ten years for a successful introduction and have put out a $50 reward, but no one has guessed right as yet."

Has $100,000, Wants a Widow.
"I got $100,000, and if you know of a charming young widow that didn't get a square deal and who will promise to inspire me to make another ten, and is not merely looking for a meal ticket, and who will agree to call me Daddy—just book her for me."

"No false notions and no waiting. I am nearly 30 years of age and am late. I want a girl to be sensible, congenial, and appealing. A girl I can worship."

Sincerely, GEORGE JENNINGS.

STORRS GIVES UP A FORTUNE FOR ART'S SAKE

John Storrs, sculptor, has placed his art above his inheritance. Several weeks ago he was informed that his father had left him a fortune providing he lived and worked in this country. He could not go to France. It was in this latter country that he felt he could do his best work.

Yesterday he came to his decision. He said: "Yes, I am going back to Paris. Of course, it will mean a loss of money, but not such a great deal when you figure it in Paris one can live so much cheaper. I will rent an apartment studio there for $17 a month, while here it will cost $70."

"My little daughter can choose, when she is twenty-one, whether she prefers America to France. My wife is French. I am American. In spite of my foreign residence I will retain my American citizenship."

The Art institute here has purchased several of his pieces from the exhibit that has been on view at the Arts and Crafts club for the past few weeks.

LEADERS DETAIL PLANS FOR HUGE PIER PAGEANT

Chicago to Lead World in Trade, Schools, Beauty.

Chicago is pictured as the city destined to lead the world in commerce, education and beauty by several speakers at a dinner held last night at the Hotel La Salle to formulate the plans for the Pageant of Progress at the Municipal pier July 30 to August 14. About 600 business men attended.

"Chicago is the biggest young city and the youngest big city in the world, and will some day be the biggest city in the world," said Mayor Thompson. "Because of her ideal location Chicago is destined to lead the world in commerce," said David Kinley, president of the University of Illinois. He predicted that as soon as the waterway to the Atlantic was completed Chicago would be one of the most important ports in the world.

Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern university, said Chicago already was the educational center of the United States and "will soon be the educational center of the world." Enthusiasm over the pageant, which will be held under the auspices of the Chicago Boosters' club, was evidenced by such men as Edward Hines, D. P. Kelly of Mandel Brothers, Joseph R. Noel, president of the Association of Commerce, and W. Frank McClure of the Fort Dearborn National bank.

Mayor Tells Pageant Plans.

"The pageant will show the progress of Chicago," the mayor said in his address. "The plan is to have the industrial, commercial, educational, and historical advances of the city shown in exhibits. The pageant will be second in importance to the great world's fair, but I predict that after we have held pageants like it for ten years, they will have done more good than the world's fair did."

"The pageant will start the ball rolling in the right direction and inspire manufacturers—right now to operate on full time. It will help industry to meet the crisis we face. It will make Chicago the leader in expansion and rejuvenated business will be reflected all over the United States."

Clarence A. Burley, president of the Chicago Historical society, gave the meaning of the word Chicago. He said it was an Indian phrase meaning, "You don't need to go any further."

Beauty and Hospitality. Capt. D. W. Wurtsbaugh, commandant of the Great Lakes naval training station, declared Chicago to be a city of beauty and hospitality. Others who spoke were Dr. John Bell Robertson, Capt. Edward A. Evers of the naval reserve John Fletcher, Milton L. Budd of the Chicago Elevated railways, and Thomas Kearney, president of the Chicago Building Trades council.

THOMAS KEEPS $300,180,000 OUT OF PORK BARREL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(Special.)—In the final hour of the debate on the agricultural bill late this afternoon Senator Thomas of Colorado made seven points of order against amendments offered by various senators. The point of order in each instance was sustained by Vice President Marshall and as a result amendments calling for a total appropriation of $200,180,000 were lost.

The amendments defeated included one directing the treasury department to purchase in the fiscal years 1921 and 1922 bonds of the farm loan banks to the amount of $200,000,000; another appropriating $100,000,000 for road construction, a proposal to pay California and Arizona farmers $100,000 for levee work on the Colorado river, and an appropriation of $25,000 for a forestry experimental at the University of California, one of $50,000 for a silver cultural experiment station in Arizona and one of $10,000 for a live stock station in Oklahoma.

TERROR PLOT TO BOMB GROCERS BARED IN REPORT

A plot to extort money from grocers and retail merchants by threats of bombs and deeds of vandalism was exposed in a report of the Employers' Association of Chicago, given out last night. It follows closely on attacks against moving picture theaters by the throwing of odor bombs.

The report was made after the arrest of Albert Block, who represented himself as an organizer of the Northwest Groccerymen's association. He is charged with having hurled a brick through the window of a grocery store owned by Joseph Wolf at Oakley boulevard and Hirsch street, when Wolf refused to pay him a fee of $10 as protection money.

Eight Others Accuse Him. Block had threatened to blow up their stores if they refused to pay a fee. The charge against Block is to be heard in the West Chicago avenue court on March 2.

Mrs. Beesie Mutter, who owns a grocery at 1402 North Claremont avenue, said she had been threatened by Block, making the statement to Herbert E. Herrod, secretary of the employers' association.

"I was in my store one afternoon when a man came in and demanded that I give him $3 as part dues in the grocery association," she said. "I did not wish to join and I refused to give him the money. He yelled at me, 'I'll break your neck if you don't kick in.' Then he told what he had done at the other store and said he would smash all my windows and blow my store up if I did not pay. Just then another man came into the store and he ran out."

Others who reported that "Block" had threatened to bomb their stores are Joseph Siegel, 2208 Potomac avenue; Mrs. H. Shepley, 2057 Division street; J. Garfinkle, Crystal and Robey street; and A. P. Bergeron, 2336 West North avenue.

Windows Broken. Windows in the store of Trudeman Bros., 1900 West North avenue, were broken by a man described by witnesses as Block, as were the windows in the Selecty grocery at Thomas and Western avenues.

Nathan Faltelson is president of the Northwest Groccerymen's association. Its offices are in the butter store owned by Faltelson at 2205 Potomac avenue. Faltelson denies Block acted on his orders to intimidate groccers, but has admitted, according to the report, that Block was in his employ.

The men are Herbert Vaughan, 29 years old, and Roy Physioc, 25 years old, both of 3902 Ellis avenue, and E. D. Wallace, 23 years old, of the Y. M. C. A. hotel. Vaughan and Physioc are chauffeurs. Badges made to resemble those of internal revenue deputies were found on them.

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 24.—Lewis Morin, a private of the 53d infantry, said to be wanted at Windsor, Ont., for a $3,500 pay car robbery, is being detained at Camp Grant pending application for a federal warrant and inquiry as to jurisdiction. CHICAGO POLICE LET BLIND RUN: RICHARDSON

Refuse to Aid
Squads, He Says

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT
Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—"Beyond capturing criminals, the Chicago police have no assistance in enforcing the law. There are 1,200 Chicago police, most of them are with the tolerance, if not with the connivance and protection of the law."

This was the assertion of Frank D. Richardson, prohibition director, who went to Washington to give his views on the Chicago police to the committee of the officers and stern to Mr. Richardson, the suspension of Tatro, ended to arrest him if he Stern defendants in the court. He thought he but this was denied at the department.

"I have had enough of said Mr. Richardson, "and I can quit, the better I would not keep the job year. It is simply impossible to enforce the prohibition law under existing conditions."

"We have stopped liquor but it is being made in the city in Chicago. There are many manufacturers of extraneous preparations and one has permits enabling the alcohol. Many of these preparations are really beverages."

"Where we have police we enforce the law. Detroit is an example. The liquor selling in those cities is bootlegging around the law. Have you sought the of the Chicago police?" Men was asked.

Police Fail to Help
"Not personally," he replied. "I would do no good. Heids that enforcement is of the federal government. I well sought police cooperation."

After his conference with revenue officials Mr. Richardson denounced the Stern affair. "Tatro exceeded his authority in making the arrests at all wing previously consulted with his actions after that were never 'kidnaped' his price the police bring them to and I would have released the custody of their law following day, which was that was all there was to it."

Mr. Richardson denounced action that Tatro had taken to investigate his office that in consequence of his Chief free telephoned C. Barnshaw in charge of intelligence office in Chicago, making the arrests at all wing Tatro and putting the in the case in the hands of Madden, who was formerly of the Chicago office.

Mr. Tatro refused to confirm this, but Deputy Commissioner said that Tatro had not been admitted his but even discussed.

CHICAGO POLICE LET BLIND PIGS RUN: RICHARDSON

Refuse to Aid Sponge
Squads, He Says.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Beyond capturing a still occasionally, the Chicago police are of no assistance in enforcing the prohibition law. There are 1,500 saloons in Chicago, most of them selling liquor with the toleration. If not the actual connivance and protection, of the police.

This was the assertion today of Frank D. Richardson, the Chicago prohibition director, who arrived in Washington to give his version of his own with Special Agent Tatro over the arrest of the officers and employees of Stern & Co. Mr. Richardson sought the suspension of Tatro, who threatened to arrest him if he released the Stern defendants in the custody of their attorney. He thought he succeeded, but this was denied at the treasury department.

Richardson "Has Enough." "I have had enough of this job," said Mr. Richardson, "and the sooner I can quit, the better I will be suited. I would not keep the job for $25,000 a year. It is simply impossible to enforce the prohibition law effectively under existing conditions.

"We have stopped liquor coming in, but it is being made in large quantities in Chicago. There are 350 authorized manufacturers of extracts, medicinal preparations and cosmetics who have permits enabling them to obtain alcohol. Many of them are making preparations that are really intoxicating beverages.

"Where we have police cooperation we enforce the law. Detroit and Indianapolis are examples. There is no liquor selling in those cities except a little bootlegging around the hotels.

"Have you sought the cooperation of the Chicago police?" Mr. Richardson was asked.

Police Fail to Help. "Not personally," he replied. "I have it would do no good. The chief leads that enforcement is the business of the federal government. A. B. Farwell sought police cooperation without success.

After his conference with internal revenue officials Mr. Richardson said concerning the Stern affair: "Tatro exceeded his authority in making the arrests at all without having previously consulted with me, and his actions after that were ridiculous. I never 'kidnaped' his prisoners. I had the police bring them to my office, and I would have released them in the custody of their lawyer over the following day, which was a holiday. That was all there was to it."

Tatro Not Suspended. Mr. Richardson denounced the suggestion that Tatro had come to Chicago to investigate his office. He said that in consequence of his representation Chief Tatro telephoned today to A. C. Earnshaw in charge of the special intelligence office in Chicago suspending Tatro and putting the investigation of the case in the hands of Arthur Madden, who was formerly in charge of the Chicago office.

Mr. Tatro refused to confirm or deny this, but Deputy Commissioner Myers said that Tatro had not been suspended, though he admitted his suspension had been discussed.

Ten year old Bertha Cirtaut of 729 West One Hundred and Nineteenth street, West Pullman, accosted Police-man James Woodward at East Van Buren street and South Wabash avenue yesterday and asked him to direct her to a hotel. He interrogated her. She said two men in an automobile had kidnaped her while she was en route to the dentist's office and brought her to the loop district, where they allowed her to alight. She was not harmed. The police doubt her story. They believe she wished to evade the dentist. Her mother and her uncle, Peter Yues, called for her last night.

Enforcement Officer Frank Chamberlain. Twenty-five prisoners, many cases of liquor and a powerful speed launch estimated to be worth more than $3,500, were taken in the village of Boone and in resorts along the river front.

TATRO MAKES NO COMMENT. Special Agent Tatro refused to make any statement in answer to Richardson's charges. He said, however, they were here to make a thorough investigation of every angle of the Chicago booze situation and that it would be completed regardless of who may be hit.

Government men declared that at least two other whiskey rings would be connected with the Stern case before the investigation was finished. One of these is the notorious "Sadler" case investigated last summer. At that time William Sadler, a New Yorker, made a confession in which John "Boss" McLaughlin was named. Whiskey valued at $150,000 was moved by conspirators on a forged permit at that time.

Other angles of the investigation now being made here by the Washington investigators will include examination of records of all whiskey transactions made since the law went into effect. All permits issued by Prohibition Director Stone will be inspected. All breweries and wholesale warehouses will be visited.

25 PER CENT CUT IN WAGES OF N. Y. PRINTERS ASKED

New York, Feb. 24.—After a conference here today of commercial printing employers and officials of the unions, called to discuss a proposed cut in wages on April 1, E. A. Kendrick, president of the printers' league, stated that the present conditions in the industry and the downward trend in the cost of living justified a wage reduction of not less than 25 per cent. About 20,000 workers are employed in the industry. The union representatives did not indicate what action would be taken.

Six unions have agreements with the employers providing wage readjustments every six months, depending upon economic conditions in the industry and the cost of living. The annual pay roll is approximately $100,000,000. Representatives of Chicago printing firms are in New York City to urge New York publishers to move to Chicago unless union printers reduce their scales.

FEW BACHELORS SELL MOONSHINE, LANDIS LEARNS

'My Family' Base of Many Pleas for Leniency.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 24.—With a long line of prohibition law violators before him for sentence today, Judge Kenneth M. Landis listened to many appeals for leniency "because of my family."

"For goodness sake," he exclaimed, "don't anybody except men with wives and babies handling moonshine in this neck of the woods."

The judge drew a sharp distinction between the maker of moonshine for home use and the booze peddlers. The former got light fines. The latter, in many instances, drew prison sentences.

Tallman Loses Commission. When Stanley G. Tallman of Janesville appeared as counsel for a defendant in a booze case Judge Landis ordered Tallman's license as United States commissioner revoked.

The judge voiced his opinion of the present price of whiskey.

"When," he said when Luke S. Kearney, hotelkeeper, admitted selling booze at $14 a quart, "That's too much. That's an awful price."

'Tough Joints' Hard Luck. Blind pig operators who ran "tough joints" felt the rough side of the court's humor.

"I want you to know," Judge Landis explained to Joseph Hallader of Marengo, "that you haven't fooled me. I know you kept a tough joint. You sold moonshine to boys. Three hundred dollars and six months in the house of correction."

When Judge Landis learned that three men, arrested as moonshiners while they were on a fishing trip, had been in jail since October he discharged them.

WINNETKA LEADS NORTH SHORE IN BUILDING WORK

Winnetka now leads all north shore suburbs in building construction completed and planned. Permits for the erection of structures costing $1,200,000 were issued by the Winnetka department of public works in 1920, and permits for $80,000 worth of work have been issued already this year.

The village proposes to erect a $350,000 school building and a $40,000 irrigation plant this year. It was announced yesterday that Frederick A. Cooper, head of Frederick A. Cooper & Co. of Chicago, has purchased 800 feet on Sheridan road in Winnetka and plans the immediate erection of eight homes, to cost $25,000 each.

Commissioner of Public Works Walter Gibbons says twenty-two houses are being built within the Winnetka limits.

A rumor that a syndicate plans the construction of forty houses along the north shore this summer—most of them in Winnetka—was confirmed by George P. Gonsalves.

BOY IN OAK PARK HIGH SCHOOL WINS D. A. R. SILVER CUP

The winner was announced last night at the Oak Park High school at a meeting of the George Rogers Clark chapter of the D. A. R. by whom the prize was awarded. The victor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Burnett of 311 North Maple avenue, Oak Park, and is 15 years old.

EX-OP JAIL AS BOOLEGGER. Peter Doloski, a former North Chicago policeman, who is charged with having quit to enter the liquor business, yesterday began a sentence of thirty days in the Lake county jail. He was also fined $200, which he said he was unable to pay, for selling liquor in his home.

JOB PRINTERS' WAGE DISPUTE IN A DEADLOCK

Negotiations for a settlement of the controversy over wages in the job printing crafts deadlocked last night over what questions should enter into arbitration. A joint conference of representatives of the unions and of the Franklin division of the Franklin Typographical Union of Chicago, covering the union job houses, having agreed to arbitrate, was still divided over the issues to be submitted.

The meeting was adjourned until next Monday morning to give the officials of Chicago Typographical Union No. 16 an opportunity to present to the membership of the union the proposition of the employers' association. This will be done Sunday afternoon at a general mass meeting of the union in Hodge's hall.

When the session opened the men asked for arbitration. The employers agreed to arbitrate the question of whether the $4.65 cut in weekly wages which they propose is the proper one under the existing contract.

Afterwards the officials of the union urged that the issue to be arbitrated be enlarged to cover the questions as to whether the basic 1914 schedule was high enough and whether the two adjustments made last year on the basis of the government's index number of cost of living were correctly calculated. The employers took the ground that these questions are outside the issue.

Solution of the Rental Problem

Chicago is going through a serious housing situation. While the city grows by 70,000 persons a year, no homes or apartment buildings are being constructed.

Why? Enormous increases in construction cost because of increases in wages and material prices; difficulty in getting loans to finance building because of use of money at high interest in industries; constant agitation by ill-informed or publicity-seeking persons for legislation to control real estate and rentals.

This last is most important—the others will care for themselves, gradually. But no banker or builder is going to chance a fortune on a big apartment building if his property and proper profits are in continual danger of laws which almost confiscate his possessions.

When senseless agitation ends, when money loosens a little and when wages and material reach normal Chicago's home shortage will end.

CROWE ARRANGES TO HOLD JUDGES ON CRIME CASES

Takes Steps to Continue Fight for Safe City.

State's Attorney Crowe began reorganizing for another advance in the crime drive yesterday. As a first step he completed plans to hold the eight auxiliary criminal judges sitting in the county building until the criminal calendar is reduced to 500 pending cases.

Following that, he requested federal authorities to remove fifty-six government prisoners from the county jail to relieve congestion caused by the new record roll call of 516 prisoners.

Praises Work of Judges.
The new plans were precipitated by announcement that the eight auxiliary judges, who have been working hard to clear up congested dockets since Jan. 1, planned to abandon their work within two weeks.

"The judges on the south side have done wonderful work," said the prosecutor, "and it is true that they have cleared up the major part of the bail cases—the cases where defendants are out on bail and do not have to be brought from jail cells into court. However, there still remain 1,000 pending cases. The drive since January has reduced the then 2,200 pending cases to that number."

Crowe to Get Four More Aids.
Mr. Crowe's petition for an additional appropriation to defray expenses of his crime drive was favorably reported upon by the county board finance committee. As a result four assistant state's attorneys and three clerks will be added to the staff. The order also provides for an increase in the salary of Ben Newmark, chief investigator for Mr. Crowe, from $2,700 to $4,800.

An anti-bomb bill which provides for a ten year to life penalty for bombers, drawn at Mr. Crowe's request, was sent to Representative E. J. Smejkal, and will be introduced in the legislature at once.

Representative Thomas O'Grady introduced a bill in the legislature to prohibit the sale of firearms anywhere in Illinois. He believes if it becomes a law it will go a long way in stopping Chicago crime.

Readjustments of the wages of 25,000 men in conformity with the new labor scale will be made at the same time. The Jones and Laughlin company employs in normal times about 25,000 men. DUTY ON SUGAR REDUCED; VOTE ON TARIFF TODAY
Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Before reaching a final agreement on the agricultural emergency tariff bill senate and house conferees today reduced the proposed duty on sugar and eliminated entirely the provision applying to hides and leather.

Other proposed duties, including those on Sumatra tobacco and cherries, were cut.

The house conferees forced the senate conferees to accept these compromises. The report was submitted to the house tonight and will be acted upon tomorrow in both house and senate, according to present plans. Every indication is that it will be approved in both houses and sent to President Wilson not later than Saturday.

Both Republicans and Democrats expect him to veto it. Previous test votes have indicated that while a majority in each house is for the measure the president's veto cannot be obtained in either branch.

AUTO FACTORIES SEE BIG MONTH AHEAD OF THEM
Detroit, Mich., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Alvin MacAuley, president of the Packard Motor Car company, today predicted that business conditions, especially in the automobile industry, would show a substantial improvement in the next thirty days.

Increased production schedules were officially announced today by the Wilson Body company, Paige-Detroit Motor Car company, Studebaker corporation, and Liberty Starter company.

The Kelsey Wheel company will add 50 per cent to its working force, the Hupp Motor company is now employing 40 per cent of its normal force, and 30 per cent of the normal force is working at the Continental Motors plant.

HAS MISS GARDEN FOUND A RIVAL TO GALLI-CURCI?
Is of the young, untired woman who will attempt to outshine Galli-Curci and make of next Tuesday's performance one which shall reverberate through the world of song more loudly than did the sensational debut of Galli-Curci four years ago in Chicago.

Ten days ago the writer interviewed Miss Garden on this and that of her theater. Galli-Curci's name was mentioned.

A Gambling Chance.
"I shall have to gamble on a new Galli-Curci," said Miss Garden. "I am forced to gamble for our next season in New York. For Chicago I shall still have Curci, but for New York [by the terms of Galli-Curci's contract with the Metropolitan Opera company for next year she is not to sing in New York for Mary Garden]. I shall need a coloratura to rival Curci if such a one can be found."

Having heard that Frieda Hempel, the famous Austrian coloratura, had been signed by the Chicago company, my next question was:

"Is Frieda Hempel your gamble?"

Miss Garden answered flatly, "No!"

Then she related an experience of her past summer in Venice, where yearly a band of artists foregather for rest and discussion.

"In Venice last summer," she said, "I went to an open air opera performance in a nearby summer resort and heard the most extraordinary coloratura voice I have ever found. It belonged to an obscure singer of the provincial Italian opera houses. I marked her as something worth getting then—but I didn't know that I was scouting for myself and neglected even so practical a step as noting her name. But I shall look her up this summer. Her voice is quite abnormal in range and has a remarkable peculiarity of increasing in power and beauty as it ascends—to quite unbelievably high notes."

The rest of the sudden fortune of Angeles Otein is told in the announcement at the Manhattan tonight. It relates that Miss Garden, hearing that her "find" had gone to South America and learning her name from the same informer, dispatched her lieutenant, Paul Longoni, to make overtures to the new diva.

Found at Havana.
Longoni took passage for Havana as the first lap of the trip to the southern continent, and there he had the luck to end his search. Miss Otein was singing with the Bracale company, an itinerant band of the second order, and had just started a season in the Cuban capital. Longoni persuaded her to hurry her Havana season to a close and come to New York in time to try the great gamble this year.

Now Miss Otein is aboard a New York boat. She has been told what is expected of her. She knows that she comes to sing as the rival of the unrivaled Galli-Curci. She knows that it is the hope of her new impresario that next year when she sings in the Manhattan and Galli-Curci in the Metropolitan there will be many who will have to toss a coin to decide which performance to attend. She knows that she has been selected for this great adventure in preference to so tried a performer as Frieda Hempel. One may envy her her great chance or pity her for what must be her great nervousness in facing the ordeal.

ARNOLD DEFIES MAYOR'S ORDER TO QUIT CAR JOB

Avers He Will Stick Until Courts Decide Issue.

Col. Blon J. Arnold, chairman of the board of supervising engineers, in a letter now awaiting a reply from Mayor Thompson, calmly refuses to obey the mayor's demand that he cease to perform the duties of his office.

The board was created by the 1907 traction ordinances to keep track of the finances of the Chicago Surface Lines. The mayor contends that the company is a "contract breaker" by reason of its refusal to stick to the 5 cent fare agreement, that therefore the 1907 ordinances are cancelled, and that the board is consequently without authority to act.

In a letter dated Feb. 21 the mayor demanded that Col. Arnold "cease to pretend to be chairman and a member of the board and to act as such."

"I'll stick," says Arnold.

But Mr. Arnold prefers to await the decision of the courts on the validity of the contract ordinances. In his letter to the mayor he says: "I shall continue to perform my duty as chairman of the board of supervising engineers until I am legally relieved of that duty. I shall also continue to send you notices of the meetings of the board so long as the city, through your inaction, fails to have a representative on the board, in accordance with the terms of the ordinance."

In his letter to Col. Arnold the mayor suggested that further communications from the chairman would be given little attention. On this point the chairman's letter says:

"I assure you that while I shall not hesitate to write you letters or send you notices when in the performance of my duty I believe them to be necessary, I shall not feel hurt in case you do not see fit to answer them."

Takes Rap at Cleveland.

In a letter to Chester E. Cleveland, chief traction attorney for the city, Col. Arnold declares that "the complete assurance you express as to the infallibility of your opinion of the law is very interesting."

"If in—let us say—the almost inconceivable event that the courts should fail to sustain your contention, the board of supervising engineers should not fail to perform its duties under the ordinance."

CAPITAL HOTEL BELL HOPS HAD OWN BOOZE TRADE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(Special.)—Nearly every hotel in Washington was visited last night and today by federal prohibition agents in the biggest raid ever conducted against bootlegging in the national capital.

Forty-five federal agents from Maryland and Ohio, in personal charge of Thomas E. Stone, supervising prohibition director of the Maryland-Ohio district, which includes the District of Columbia, participated in the roundup and approximately fifty arrests were made.

Most of the persons caught were bellhops or other employees of hotels who are alleged to have been selling various forms of "bootleg" whiskey. The principal sales were made, it was discovered, without the knowledge or consent of the hotel management, although in the case of one of the smaller hotels it was alleged the manager and his wife were violating the law.

Among the hotels where arrests were made were the National, Bancroft, Dewey, New Willard, Washington, Continental, Stag, Lafayette, Capitol, Atlantic, Harris, Metropolitan, New Varum, and Burlington, the Howard house, and Congress Hall.

PASS MY LAWS OR PLUMS STOP, SMALL'S DECREE

Governor Resents Delay
on His Program.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.) Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—(Special.)—Gov. Len Small today served notice on the legislature that no more jobs will be handed out until the administration's legislative program is out of the way.

An executive message carried this news to the senate, which had failed to confirm the appointment of Gregory T. Van Meter, public administrator of Cook county to succeed Gordon A. Ramsay.

In executive session the list of nominations sent to the senate by Gov. Small was divided. The Lincoln park and West park commissions were confirmed, as were the state fair board appointments. Nothing further will be done until March 8. Then the senate reconvenes.

Call to Repentance.

The announcement that no more jobs were to be given out was received in some quarters as an invitation to legislators to step up to the governor's office and discuss the legislative program. By others it was construed as notice that there will be no important appointments made until after the sine die adjournment of the legislature.

general assembly in June. With the legislature out of the way, Mr. Small could dispose of his patronage as recess appointments that would not have to go to the senate for confirmation until January, 1923.

The suggestion was made that the senate will take no action on the pending Lowden appointments, including that of Gen. Sanborn as tax commissioner thereby giving to Mr. Small the privilege of naming a tax commissioner in July without the bother of seeking senate confirmation.

Ramsay Visits Springfield.

Public Administrator Ramsay was in Springfield this morning, but did not appear in the legislative halls, returning to Chicago at noon. No official statements have been made in any quarter with regard to his removal.

It is known that strong pressure has been exerted on Mr. Small to get action on Ramsay. The Lundin organization first slated Captain Percy B. Coffin for the job, which is the best fee office in Gov. Small's gift.

Later Dr. William H. Reid became an active candidate. City Controller George F. Harding, however, in a stormy talk, it is said, served notice that the place was his. Coffin then was slated for the tax commission in Gen. Sanborn's place, and all of the resultant difficulties have followed.

Mr. Ramsay's advisers are preparing to start injunction proceedings, it is reported, to prevent the approval of the bond of his successor, if confirmed, by Probate Judge Henry Horner, who is a Democrat.

Business Is Good

Our January business was good. In fact, it practically equalled our best January in the last four years.

Ford prices are low—the big price reductions have been made in anticipation of continuous maximum factory production and increases may be necessary if a large volume of new business is not obtained. Therefore, present prices of Ford products cannot be guaranteed against possible INCREASES.

On account of recent curtailment in production we anticipate a shortage of Ford cars in a few weeks. This shortage has already developed in certain models.

So if you contemplate the purchase of a Ford—BUY NOW. Satisfactory terms can be arranged.

Blackwood, present at each of the fifteen tables. Only slight deviations from the police returns were shown by the canvass and only one aldermanic contest was affected. Watchers for Ald. Adamowski declared that he had picked up enough votes to put him in second place in the Seventeenth ward race and make him, instead of John J. Hawke, the candidate against John P. Devereux, backed by the city hall forces, at the supplementary election to be held April 5.

Bond Returns Correct.
"My watchers have found that the police returns on the bond issue are fairly accurate," said Attorney Blackwood at the end of the day. "Unless big gains are made for the issue in the remaining wards, there will be little change from the police returns in the final vote."

The latest figures on the bond issue, tabulated by clerks in the controller's office from the police returns, show that it won by 10,647 votes, with four precincts out of 2,222 yet to be heard from. The figures:

Ward	For	Against	Total
1st	126,481	47,183	173,664
2nd	122,168	50,839	173,007

According to the mayor's tabulations, the proposition was carried in twenty-three wards and lost in the following: Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, and Thirtieth.

Maypole Is Safe.
Yesterday's canvass assured the reelection of Ald. George Maypole by a majority of 191 votes over Daniel G. Crest and H. W. Harris. Crest polled 123 votes; Harris, 453, and Maypole, 134, according to the watchers. The police returns showed Maypole a winner by only eighty-three votes. The canvass also showed Ald. Powers victorious over Anthony D'Amico by more than 200 votes. The police returns gave the alderman a total of 548.

The figures of the canvassers were not tabulated by the election board yesterday. This work will be begun today and the proclamation of the results will be made Monday, according to Chief Clerk George F. Latta.

BANK OF KINDNESS

Draw a Check on It for the Unfortunate.

BY REV. G. A. MAC WHORTER.

The Ladies' auxiliary of the Swedish club, 1258 North La Salle avenue, will give a stage presentation of August Blanches' farce, "The Foundling," Saturday evening at the club house for the benefit of the children's fund. The cast is headed by the well known Swedish comedian, Leopold Chalmers, and his staff. Anna and Dr. Anna Windrow-Holm plays an important part.

DR. ANNA WINDROW-HOLM.

At an entertainment and luncheon given by Bellini lodge No. 571, Knights of Pythias, $50 was raised for the suffering P. Bertoni and his staff attended. Bellini lodge has pledged itself to assist the work of European relief among children, and will conduct an active campaign under direction of Charles Parodi, Charles F. Serretella, Daniel Pasco, and Rocco De Stefano.

Two boys' schools have responded to the appeal of the European relief council. On the first Sunday of each month the orphan and half-orphan boys at Allendale Farm, Lake Villa, take up a collection of their savings for the benefit of other boys who are not as fortunate as themselves; this month they gathered a purse of $15.30 for the starving children of Europe. Capt. Bradley's influence and teaching are thus practically demonstrated, when orphan boys are able to gather out of greater need than themselves. The same story might be told of another contribution of $112.68, which came from the boys and employees of Glenwood Manual Training school.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 24.—Two deer partly wrecked the automobile driven by Representative Adam Prezzler of Medina last night. The bright lights on a country road frightened the deer, which attempted to jump over the machine. The top was crashed in, but the occupants were uninjured.

ALDERMEN READY TO SELECT NEW COUNCIL CHIEFS

With all but six seats in the 1921-22 city council settled, aldermen turned their attention yesterday to plans for the organization of the new body.

For the first time in twenty years the committee on organization will be selected at a public meeting of the council, instead of at a caucus called by the Municipal Voters' league, which invariably excluded from ten to fifteen members classed as "undesirables."

Instead of selecting a Democrat and a Republican from each side of the city, the new nonpartisan council rules, adopted last year when the aldermen discarded the leadership of the M. V. L., provide for a committee on committee of five members, each member to be selected by the representatives of seven wards, taken in rotation from one to thirty-five.

Choices for Committee.
In the first seven wards Ald. U. S. Schwartz, a member of last year's committee, has the inside track to represent his group. Ald. Guernsey of the Seventh ward is also mentioned for the place.

Ald. Anton J. Cernak, leader of the council Democrats, is almost sure to be the selection of wards eight to fourteen, inclusive. In the next group Ald. Crowe, Agnew, Olsen, and Bowler are candidates, with Crowe in the lead unless the administration puts up a fight for Olsen or Agnew.

In the fourth group there are almost as many candidates as aldermen, with Armitage, Wallace, and Adamowski reported the three best bets.

Rap at M. V. L.
In wards Twenty-nine to Thirty-five Ald. William R. O'Toole is slated for selection. This is a direct slap at the M. V. L., which last year excluded O'Toole from its caucus as an "undesirable."

The present council rules provide that the organization committee shall be selected on the second Tuesday in March, but members of the local transportation committee, who plan to leave next Wednesday on a trip through the west to study transportation systems, started a move yesterday to select the steering committee at a special meeting next Monday.

Finance Committee Vacancies.
The five members of the committee on organization will have six vacancies to fill on the finance committee, regarded as the most important committee on the council list. Five of these places are now held by Ald. Fisher, Captain, McCormick, Lipps, and C. F. Smith. The sixth is a vacancy caused by Ald. Fetzer's election as Municipal court judge.

Four important chairmanships are also at stake, as follows: Railway terminals, now held by Ald. Lipps, defeated; local industries, held by Ald. Fisher, defeated; gas litigation, held by Ald. Captain, who retired, and efficiency, economy, and rehabilitation, held by Ald. McCormick, who was not a candidate this spring.

Trial Board Unanimous in 'Firing' Negro, Sunbart

Unanimously, and almost without discussion, the trial board of the city civil service commission trial board yesterday ordered the dismissal of Jonas Sunbart, Negro policeman, charged with attempting to attack a white woman on Jan. 31. Mrs. Helen Burkhardt testified Wednesday that Sunbart entered her room at 1472 Bryant place, cursed her and struck her.

HARDING INVITES PARTY ROW OVER COLOMBIA PACT

Wants Purchase Treaty Ratified by Senate.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.) Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Storm signals were hoisted in the senate today when Harry M. Daugherty brought word from President Harding that he desired ratification of the Colombian treaty as one of the first acts of his administration.

Republican senators who oppose this treaty indicate that if Mr. Harding adheres to this decision the early days of his administration will be marked by a party row. President Wilson has made repeated efforts to get the treaty ratified and has failed because of bitter opposition from the Republican ranks. Statements of opponents of the treaty following Mr. Daugherty's announcement today indicate that this opposition has not abated.

Provisions of Treaty. The treaty, as modified and laid before the senate by the foreign relations committee last June, is stripped of expressions of regret over the part played by the United States in the acquisition of the territory which made possible the building of the Panama canal in Roosevelt's administration. The pact in its present form provides for the payment of $25,000,000 to the Republic of Colombia in recognition of her claims against the United States growing out of the part played by the United States in the Panama revolution. Five million dollars is to be paid to Colombia at once and the rest is to be turned over in annual installments of $4,000,000.

Opponents of the treaty have not been pacified by this modification. The payment of any sum of money to Colombia, Senator Borah of Idaho declared today, would constitute an acknowledgment by the United States of the justice of Colombia's claim that "Roosevelt robbed her of the Panama Canal Zone." The mere elimination of the "apology" clause meant nothing, he said.

Why Harding Wants Action. The Harding administration wants the treaty ratified, it is understood, first, because it believes such action would improve American prestige in

MISCELLANEOUS.

At its last meeting the Gold Star Fathers' association of Illinois passed a resolution protesting the use of funds set aside for the care of graves of American soldiers abroad to defray expenses for a memorial for our unidentified dead. Another resolution urges a special appropriation by congress for several monuments to our unknown dead, to be placed at junctions of our national highways. The resolutions were forwarded to Secretary of War Baker.

Latin America, and second, because it would enable the United States to exploit vast natural resources, particularly oil concessions, in Colombia at a time when Great Britain is desperately striving to control the world's oil supply.

If the treaty were brought to a vote today it would undoubtedly be rejected, despite the large number of Democrats who favor it. Mr. Daugherty indicated that President Harding would like to have the senate take action at the special session of the senate to be called on March 4 to confirm the cabinet.

A. F. OF L. WANTS ITS OWN MAN IN HARDING CABINET

"Recognized Workers' Representative" Asked.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.) Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Organized labor having appealed to the country yesterday to support it in a broad declaration of principles which included defiance of the courts, if necessary, appealed to President Harding today to appoint a secretary of labor who is a "recognized representative" of the organized labor movement.

The appeal to Mr. Harding is embodied in a telegram signed by Samuel Gompers, president, and all members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, representatives of the 109 international unions in conference here on labor's "bill of rights" and officials of the railroad brotherhoods which are not affiliated with the federation.

No Candidate Named. Although no names are mentioned in the telegram the message was instigated by the fact that Mr. Harding has apparently decided to appoint as secretary of labor J. J. Davis of Pennsylvania, who is not recognized by officials of the labor movement as "a real spokesman of the working people of the country."

Labor leaders are disappointed by reports from St. Augustine, which indicate that Mr. Harding has decided not to appoint either James Duncan, president of the Granite Cutters' union, or Representative John J. Nolan of California, as official of the iron molders' union for many years.

Duncan Signs Plea. Duncan, in his official capacity, is one of the signers to the petition to President Harding.

"We have no desire to name any special person for this office," the message states, "but we respectfully request as citizens of our country that the man to be appointed to represent us in your cabinet shall be a recognized representative of organized labor."

The threat of the labor leaders to disregard injunctions was severely criticized by senators and representatives. Representative Enoch said "it is unwise for any class to decide to disregard a law."

The labor conference urged the president to veto the Winslow-Townsend bill as an unjustifiable concession to the railroads to which it would authorize payment of part of the amount due from the government.

Northwestern Students Will Have Own Tearoom Evanston co-eds and men students are to have a tearoom and a grill where they can assemble and discuss the latest fashions, the football games, etc. They will no longer want to come to Chicago to the naughty restaurants which are taboo. The tearoom will be started on Orrington avenue, near Church street, by Mary Louise Torrence of Pontiac, Ill., a graduate of 1920, and Imogene Verbees of Evanston, class of 1918.

RAIL LABOR ASKS SPEEDY DECISION ON CONFERENCE

Railway labor, through its general counsel, Frank P. Walsh, petitioned the federal railroad labor board yesterday for an immediate decision on labor's request for a general conference between railway executives and labor leaders to settle grievances and complaints as to rules and national agreements. A decision without delay is desirable, said Mr. Walsh, who is in Washington, "since it may be necessary for us to seek a judicial determination as to certain features of the transportation act and as to certain interpretations of the act by the carriers, by ourselves, and by your honorable body."

He also pointed out that the decision would have a great bearing on the scope and character of labor's reply on March 10 to the carriers' attacks on the rules and working agreements.

TRAMP MILKS COW FOR BREAKFAST. A tramp who spent Wednesday night in a barn at the rear of the home of Attorney Roland D. Whitman, 640 Hill road, Winnetka, milked the cow for breakfast and helped himself to preserves and canned fruits. Later a hired man made an ineffectual effort to milk the cow.

REFOREST L. NOT TILLED, OF U. S. EX

Urges Growing Tr End Housing Pro

"Reforestation of untilled land will eventually be the salvation of housing." This keynote opening of the series of lectures on forestry problems presented in the first drive of the Seventy and states that the United States forest service is in the clubroom.

Chief Forester Speaks. Col. W. B. Greeley, chief of the United States, was the speaker and outlined the program in the drive. "Two things are of paramount importance if we will save the forest fires and the extension of the forest land for forestry," he said. "A national drive to forest fires and the extension of the forest land for forestry."

Would Reforest Unavailable. Col. Greeley declared there lands, unavailable for tilling, reforested, would save the public $20,000,000 yearly. Illinois and Wisconsin, he said, are building construction, use of all the timber now produced.

"This timber is used in the manufacture of boxes, automobiles, cars, agricultural implements and products," he said. "The total of $200,000,000 invested in reforestation in these states in Illinois, he said, there a 600 acres of lands available time for reforestation."

The conference adopted a resolution offered by David L. Goodwill, man of the club's committee for the organization of a cent forestry committee, which named later during the conference meeting will close today.

"If a wish could only make it so!"
A wish in a WANT AD will--

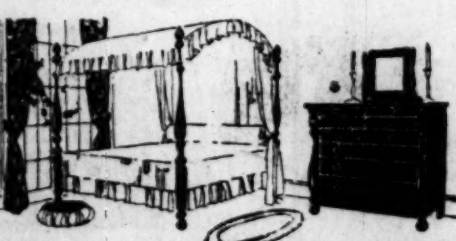

Sylvia Suggests:
New Rooms for Old

EVER since I visited Cousin Constance in Boston last year I've been horribly dissatisfied with my room. Constance has the dearest place—the top floor, with a fireplace, old Colonial furniture, rag rugs, the quaintest room you ever saw. When I came back, mine seemed so jejune—all white enamel and schoolgirly. So when mother decided to decorate, Sylvia decided to get new furniture, too.

Have you ever studied period furniture? It's terribly fascinating. But the Colonial pieces I wanted were frightfully scarce, and the prices—mother just had a fit! So I took things into my own hands.

First, I wrote a Want Ad for The Tribune, and advertised my white enamel furniture for sale. And would you believe it—two women snapped up all of it the next day, and paid very well for it, too, considering how old it was!

And then I ran another Want Ad, offering to buy the Colonial pieces I wanted. About a dozen people called me up, and mother and I went shopping for furniture. We found a wonderful old bed, with posts, you know, in a house on the West Side; and another man had a dresser and highboy, and then we found the sweetest chairs in a cabinetmaker's shop. It was really exciting! We picked up everything we wanted except the rugs, and mother wrote to a woman she knows in Connecticut for a pair of them! The room is simply perfect now! Do come over and see it! But I never could have afforded to refurbish it if it were not for Tribune Want Ads!

SOME youngster wants a bicycle just as badly as your boy did a few years ago; the now unused "bike" that once delighted your boy will delight him, too. Sell it through Tribune Want Ads. Motorcycles can be disposed of in the same easy way!

THE market for Real Estate is much better now. If you have been holding vacant lots, this is the time to dispose of them at fair prices. Buildings and homes, too, can also be sold advantageously. Use a Tribune Want Ad as your agent if you want a quick sale!

ALMOST every family has a slight heritage of art objects, antiques, old books, one or two beautiful things that are out of place in the ordinary household and fit for the cabinets of connoisseurs and collectors. Put these heirlooms where they belong! Sell them—through Tribune Want Ads—to people who want them and appreciate them!

Sunday Tribune Want Ad Section Makes Wishes Come True

Order your WANT AD by 'phone—

Call Central 100 and ask for an Adtaker. Or use The Tribune's Want Ad Store, on the first floor of the Tribune building, Dearborn and Madison Special service department for women.

PROFESSIONAL dancing teachers should profit by the changing styles in dancing! For full spring classes, take advantage of the universally useful Tribune Want Ad!

ALWAYS an advertising marvel, a wonder worker in results, this big Sunday Tribune Want Ad Section now is more able, more productive than ever before—because more people read The Sunday Tribune, and see the Want Ad Section—than ever before! The last few weeks the circulation of The Sunday Tribune has climbed to unprecedented figures—840,000 copies! It is still growing—and every copy means more results for Sunday Tribune Want Advertisers!

Make use of this wonderful medium! Let it help you, at home or in business. Let it make money for you. Let it do the things that nothing else can do so cheaply, so easily, so effectively! Use it to make your wishes come true!

Classified ads for The Sunday Tribune must be in the office of The Tribune before TWO P. M. SATURDAY.

Mr. and Mrs. B attended the theatre, taxied to a hotel where they had supper, danced for an hour or so, and then taxied home—out to Woodlawn. Mrs. B then discovered that a prized bar pin she had worn was missing! How to look for the pin was a problem that admits of only one answer—a Tribune Want Ad in the Lost and Found classification!

Most people are honest; when they find something they are prevented from returning it only by their ignorance of its owner! Here is where the Want Ad fits in. Remember it when you have need of it.

A Danger Signal—Tender and Bleeding Gums

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills. Pyorrhea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them. Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection! And keep Pyorrhea away by using Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

REFOREST LAND NOT TILLED, PLEA OF U. S. EXPERT

Urges Growing Trees to End Housing Problem.

"Reforestation of unutilized lands will eventually be the salvation of the housing situation."

This was the keynote of the opening yesterday of the first of a series of national meetings and conferences on the problems presented in the "save the forests" drive of foresters of the country. Seventy foresters and state executives met with members of the Union League in the clubrooms.

Chief Forester Speaks.

Col. W. B. Greeley, chief forester of the United States, was the principal speaker and outlined the program he favors in the drive.

"Two things are of paramount importance if we will save the forests," he said. "A national drive to prevent forest fires and the extension of publicly owned land for reforestation."

"There are, in round figures, 25,000 forest fires every year. In them from 1,000,000 to 10,000,000 acres of virgin and cut-over land are burned each year. The government ought to set aside 1,000,000 acres a year to fight the forest fire."

Would Reforest Unutilized Lands.

Col. Greeley declared there are now lands, unavailable for tilling, which, if reforested, would save the building public $10,000,000 yearly. Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin, he said, aside from building construction, use one-fourth of all the timber now produced in the country.

"This timber is used in the manufacture of boxes, automobiles, freight cars, agricultural implements and similar products," he said. "There is a total of $800,000,000 invested and 260,000 men employed in these industries."

In Illinois, he said, there are 6,000,000 acres of lands available at this time for reforestation.

The conference adopted a resolution signed by David L. Goodwillie, chairman of the club's committee, calling for the organization of a central states forestry committee which will be named later during the conference. The meeting will close today.

HEWITT TELLS MEDILL CLASS HONESTY PAYS

Speaks of Pitfalls in City Hall.

BY EYE WITNESS.

"Beware," said Oscar E. Hewitt of THE TRIBUNE, echoing through paraphrasing Tony Weiler, in his lecture on "The City Hall and Its Repertorial Pitfalls," "O beware of the woman in public office."

The lecturer paused, as if musing of troubles so far in the past that they had taken on a whimsical cast. He was drawing toward the close of his discourse and was emphasizing the pitfalls of a place which, he said, originates "at least five kinds of news—legitimate news, a large amount of it; phony news, which it often originates; well-propaganda news, which it sometimes originates; cleverly; individual publicity news, which it occasionally offers in a form so alluring that it lands in print, and finally pure advertising space in a newspaper."

A place truly, said Mr. Hewitt, to teach a man that "facts are often harder to collect than dollars."

Can't Handle Woman's Affairs.

Then he came to his well-known warning: "There are danger signals which should be recognized and heeded. There are some innocent-looking bombs which should not be handled. For example, I have been a total failure in handling any story about a woman in public office."

"Some of them should be roasted and toasted until they retire from public life. But I haven't written a story criticizing a woman in public office in ten years. Before that, such stories, however legitimate they were, how- ever brought me anything but trouble."

All this was said with the earnestness of prayer.

But, surveying his youthful audience of 110 students of the newly founded Medill School of Journalism of Northwestern University, and a couple of hundred of the public, the gray-haired lecturer added, "But my experience in that line has no value whatever to a young reporter."

Hewitt's Talk "Meaty."

The inaugural discourse in the series of fifteen "Lectures from the Laboratory," which are to be a regular Thursday night feature of the Medill school's first semester, was a meaty document. It told the students what a reporter never tells another reporter—even when that other is not a rival—about successful and honorable ways to work beneath that vast roof which covers more news, more devotions, more truth, more lies, and more of high community interest than any other dozen roofs in Chicago cover.

The constant plea of the speaker was for work that should be on the square, and he told of one case—in the course of numerous absorbing anecdotes—where the slipping of a $5 bill and the turning of a page of plans would have obtained for "a certain reporter" a place of news of prime importance. The reporter would not touch it on those easy terms. The first result was a hurried trip from Chicago to Pittsburgh, then to Philadelphia, then to Baltimore, then back to Philadelphia, then back to Pittsburgh—and there, by an exercise of wit and resource so nimble that a Talleyrand would have applauded it, success at last!

Cost Thirty Times $5.

The money expense was more than thirty times as much as the $5 that a crooked man had wanted, and that a crooked reporter would have paid. But "a certain reporter" came through clean. The final result was that he made trusty friends of a group of the most important railway managers on this continent.

The writer of these lines happens to know that "a certain reporter" was last evening's modest lecturer, Oscar E. Hewitt.

Next Thursday night Frederick D. Pasley, chief of THE TRIBUNE's rewrite battery, will lecture on "The Rewrite Man, a New Development in Modern Journalism."

BOOZE RUNNER'S TREAT COSTS HIM 36 QUARTS

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Feb. 24.—(Special.)—A story has just reached here of a wild night of revelry at Detroit.

An Indian with thirty-six quarts of Canadian whisky loaded on his dog sled crossed the St. Mary's river and landed at Spring Bay dock, Detroit, where about ten men were at work. The Indian took one quart from his sack and started to treat. One of the dockmen seized the sack and tried to make a getaway. The Indian gave chase. When the pursued man found escape impossible he dumped the contents of the sack onto the ice.

A free for all scramble ensued and all night the revelry continued. Officers from the S. M. S. are understood, are rushing to the scene, sixty miles from here.

CHAMP LEONARD AGAIN DISPLAYS SKILL FOR JOE

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

Decisions of Tribune boxing representatives are:
At St. Louis—Benny Leonard beat Joe Wellington 10-9.
At Philadelphia—Jimmy Scanlon beat George Hoss 6-5.
At Atlantic City, N. J.—Mike Burns beat Eddie Clark 8-7.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 24.—(Special.)—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, gave Joe Wellington of Chicago an artistic display in eight rounds at the Coliseum tonight, and but for the fact that the Chicago boy clinched and held on at every opportunity, the champion probably would have had another knockout to his credit.

In the fifth round, Leonard, round Leonard (Tribune Photo), connected with a right cross that put the Windy City boy to the canvas. He arose to his knees on the count of three and rested until the referee tolled off nine. On arising he clinched for the remainder of the round. The champion took every round.

Wellington Hits Low.

The Chicago boy was guilty of hitting low on three occasions, the referee not only warning him, but at one time stopping the bout long enough to ask the champion to what extent he was hurt. Benny responded by saying he was plenty able to continue and proceeded by shooting over a right cross that sent Wellington reeling across the ring. This was in the third round. The champion was exceptionally good on defense, slipping over punches in clever fashion and blocking prettily. Leonard also made good use of the counter as a defense, time after time sending Wellington back with stiff lefts to the face as Joe would make a lead.

Joe Takes Hard Holes.

Leading, Leonard did not have much trouble in shooting in straight left jabs to the face and body, and occasionally, by some good feinting, found an opening for a left hook, rocking the Chicago boy a couple of times with these kind of punches. It is doubtful if Wellington landed a dozen clean blows during the eight rounds. He managed to score now and then with left jabs and a few times reached Benny's head with right crosses, but never solid. Wellington's best blows were landed with his right hand while he was gripping Leonard around the neck with his left.

The weight agreement was catch weights. The attendance was 8,000.

Woods and Waters LARRY ST. JOHN

THE appearance of an occasional flock of wild geese is not an indication of approaching spring, as they sometimes winter in this latitude. Concerning this Edwin B. Frost, Williams Bay, Wis., writes: "It appears that some city folks are unaware that wild geese regularly pass the winter in this region. Hence their flights may not be regarded as useful indications of the weather or season. Lake Geneva, for instance, is just fifty miles north and fifty miles west of Chicago, and here the geese pass a season of seven months. They generally arrive from the north about Oct. 15, becoming abundant by Nov. 15; it is seldom that we fail to see and hear them during the greater part of January, although occasionally, during severe winters, they may disappear for two or three weeks. They become very numerous in March. "It may be supposed that those who stay with us through the coldest weather may be the earliest to leave for the north, their places being taken by those arriving from more southerly districts."

SUSPENSION of Charley White, local lightweight, for sixty days by the National Boxing association, which means that White is barred for that period in seventeen states, brought backfire from White yesterday in the form of a threat to file a suit for $50,000 against the Wisconsin boxing commission, which previously had ruled him out for six months on a charge of stalling in a recent bout with Sailor Freedman at Kenosha. White will charge defamation of character in the suit, which may be filed at Milwaukee today.

World's Champion Benny Leonard may be a ringsider at Milwaukee next Monday night when Lew Tender and Sailor Freedman hook up in battle. Leonard's manager, Billy Gibson, in a letter yesterday stated they would be here Sunday, and it is considered likely they will want to stay over a day to see the Milwaukee bout.

Down in Philadelphia they are calling Danny Kramer the Babe Ruth of the bantams. Kramer, who boxes Stanley McBride at Milwaukee next Monday night, has scored ten knockouts in his last sixteen bouts.

DR. F. J. V. SKIFF, FIELD MUSEUM DIRECTOR, DIES

Exhibit Expert Succumbs
After Brief Illness.

Dr. Frederick James Volney Skiff, director of the Field museum since it was founded, more than a quarter of a century ago, died in St. Luke's hospital yesterday. He was 70 years old.

Death, caused by angina pectoris, superinduced by a complication of disease, followed an illness of three days. Dr. Skiff, who lived at the Parkway hotel, 2100 Lincoln park way, attended a meeting of the museum's board of trustees Monday afternoon.

Engages in Newspaper Work.

Dr. Skiff was born in Chilopoe, Mass. He moved to Lawrence, Kas., in 1870, where he was engaged in newspaper work. Seven years later he went to Colorado as a member of the staff of the Denver Tribune, of which he became editor in 1881. He was a member of the Colorado state legislature in 1885-'86, and was later commissioner of immigration and statistics for Colorado.

He was deputy commissioner general of the Columbian World's Fair in 1893, chief of staff to the commissioner general of the United States to the Paris exposition of 1900, director general of the St. Louis exposition in 1904, director in chief of foreign participation at the Panama-Pacific exposition in Seattle in 1911, and director general of the San Francisco exposition in 1915. These activities served as foundation for his international fame.

Given Honors Abroad.

In 1904 Dr. Skiff was made a commander of the Legion of Honor of France. He was entitled to wear the emblem of the Order of the Crown of Italy, the Order of the Red Eagle of Germany, the Order of the Double Dragon of China, the grand cross of the Sacred Treasure of Japan, as well as decorations bestowed by Leopold of Belgium, Francis Joseph of Austria and other sovereigns. He was sometimes referred to as the "most profusely decorated man in America."

Dr. Skiff, who received the degree of master of arts from Colorado college in 1905 and the degree of doctor of laws from George Washington university in 1908, was a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, the International Museum Association of England and of the National Education association.

He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Mary R. French of Garrett, Kas. They were married in 1876.

Funeral services will be held at the New England Congregational church, Dearborn avenue and Delaware place, at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus will officiate. Burial will be at Oakwood cemetery.

DON'T WAIT TILL LAST MINUTE; PAY INCOME TAX NOW

The army of income taxpayers are mobilizing for the last-minute tax paying drive. THE TRIBUNE income tax bureau was filled to overflowing all day yesterday. The taxpayers have come in thousands to this bureau.

Harry W. Mager, the collector of internal revenue, says the taxpayers are not coming in fast enough. The filing period has exactly three weeks to run. Thousands have not made their returns yet, and unless they do so on or before March 15 there will be a heavy penalty to pay.

The longer the paying of taxes is put off the harder it will be to have the advantages of filing returns in comfort. Many changes have been wrought during the year. Many boys and girls have become self-supporting, and if their incomes have been $1,000 or more they must file a return. Millions of babies were added to families, each of whom brings an exemption of $200 in the parents' income tax returns. The status of the taxpayer on Dec. 31, 1920, is his status for the year.

L. E. R. asks: "On Jan. 17 I received a bonus based upon my 1920 salary. Should this item be included in the individual income tax return for the calendar year 1920, or the calendar year of 1921?"

Answer: If you file on an accrual basis, the bonus will be income to you in 1920, but if you file on a cash received basis, it will be included in your return for 1921.

F. H. PRINCE & CO. OBTAINS ARMOUR YARDS INTEREST

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—Sale by Armour & Co. of its interest in the Chicago stockyards to F. H. Prince & Co. of Boston was authorized today by the District of Columbia Supreme court. As the packing company owned only twenty shares of stock in the yards and Prince & Co. the remainder, the government interposed no objections. The price paid was $1,500,000. The court also consented to the sale by Armour & Co. of forty shares of the Denver, Colo., stockyards stock to George Granger. The price was not made public.

Hearings on other features of the revised plans of the five big packers for disposal of their stockyard, stockyard terminal, and market newspaper holdings in accordance with the voluntary decree issued about a year ago were continued until next Monday.

The court indicated that plans filed by Morris & Co., Wilson & Co., and the Cudahy Packing company providing for surrender of their holdings to a trust company named by the court were ready in accordance with the idea in the mind of the court. The trust company would be under complete control of the court.

Father Comes to Seek Fortune Hunting Son

Several months ago Harry Jespersen, 18, came here from Harlan, Ia., to make his fortune. Yesterday his father, Peter H. Jespersen, came to find his son after receiving a letter which read: "I am on the bum. I'm going to get a bed in the police station tonight. Only have one meal a day. God bless my soul. I'm going to jump into the river." The police here are looking for the boy.

SEVEN MEN TRIED IN HEITLER CASE FREED BY JUDGE

Distillery Owners and 2 Cops Dismissed.

Charges against seven of the twenty-four defendants on trial in connection with the Heitler case were ordered dismissed yesterday by Judge Evans. Those freed are O. H. Wathen and William G. Knebelcamp, stockholders in the Old Grand Dad distillery in Louisville; Detective Sergeant Edward Smale, Policeman Joseph Galvin, and Joseph Warner, Max Wagner, and Bryan Kane, three former saloonkeepers. Assistant District Attorney John J. Kelly declared that he would recommend trial before the police city service commission for Smale and Galvin.

Declines to Free Heitler.
Arguments for the dismissal of the charges against Mike de Pike Heitler, "Mannie" Greenberg, and Robert Parman, alleged "master minds" of the conspiracy, and William A. Gorman, former Rock Island railroad employee and a nephew of James Gorman, president of the Rock Island lines, were refused.

Attorney James P. Edwards and Francis X. Busch, counsel for the defense, declared the fault lay with the government and distillery employees and not with the officials.

"The whisky distiller has a white elephant on his hands," the attorney declared. "My clients have not manufactured a drop of whisky since 1917, yet they still have 37,000 gallons of bonded goods, which the government will not allow them to leave unprovided, or to destroy."

Government witnesses had traced several cases of the Old Grand Dad whisky from the "boozie" car to the home of John McGovern, owner of the Liberty Inn, and to an address at Vincennes avenue and Thirty-fifth street. The flat bottle, with fragments of the case in which it had been transported, was introduced as evidence.

At McGovern's place, where McGovern lived with his wife, Mrs. McGovern, and Hugh Gustafson, who hauled 100 cases from the boozie car, testimony was given that McGovern had seen one of the persons who received the whisky.

"Ghostly hands grasped the spirits imprisoned in the boxes and were away," At McGovern's the voice said. "Here take this." I looked at the next block, and found $110.

Joe Callahan a Father.
Joe Callahan, Chicago group chief in the prohibition enforcement office, smiled broadly as attorneys congratulated him on the birth of a son to his wife yesterday morning. Callahan created a mild sensation when he held aloft a pint of the whisky, the first bottle of the much discussed booze introduced since the trial started. It was handed to attorneys and to jury-men for examination.

The jury smiled as the bottle was passed to them. The judge smiled when an attorney questioned whether all the bottled evidence should be left alone in the jury room at the conclusion of the trial.

Tells of Shakedown.
John E. Fitzpatrick, a saloonkeeper, told how two uniformed policemen had "shaken him down" for four cases of whisky and an unspecified sum of money. Policemen stopped him while he was removing his whisky, he said.

"Did they let you go?" Attorney Kelly asked.
"Yes," answered Fitzpatrick, "after I had given them four cases of whisky and some money."

Prompt objections by Attorney Weymouth Kirkland stopped further disclosures.

Love and Misconduct in a Boarding House

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

HENRY HULL, our foremost expert at jaunty ne'er-do-wells, is here again in another New York boarding house drama. You remember Henry, he is the good-looking, breezy, attractive young fellow who acted so long and so handsomely at the Princess in "39 East," a tale of paying-guests in the metropolis. Well, he is now similarly employed at the La Salle in "When We Are Young."

Mr. Hull over for a minute, says to the owner of the boarding house, a New York banker, "You have at last acquired the Broadway Grin, which is the cheapest and saddest thing in all the world." But Mr. Hull is so long in the chair, as in the play his intelligent uncle does, and you would pass him up on the other side. That is, if you are not a woman, with a woman's intuition. This uncle, after looking over for a minute, says to the owner of the boarding house, a New York banker, "You have at last acquired the Broadway Grin, which is the cheapest and saddest thing in all the world."

I must tell you about Miss Alma Tell, the pretty and helpful salesperson in whose arms, as you go out, Mr. Hull finds himself encircled. Her father was a Confederate general, who, she says, threw away his sword at Gettysburg, and taking a rifle from a dead seader, killed a slight of Yankess before the day was done. Miss Tell is a book worm, specializing in Dumas, and, while browsing dreamily among Mr. Hull's shelves, comes to know, to pity, and to love him. The night he returns home to commit suicide, having lost Oak Lane, his ancestral estate, in the stock market, she is there among the literatures; and it is her counsel which sends him out into the blizzard to begin life anew, shoveling snow. Miss Tell does "nice girls," which idea, almost as well as Mr. Hull does charming rascals. She is, as Mr. Briggs used to say, of the "sincere type"—even in the scene where, with a heavy heart, she renounces her prince, at the birthday party Miss Dorothy Day presiding at the persons who received the whisky.

"Ghostly hands grasped the spirits imprisoned in the boxes and were away," At McGovern's the voice said. "Here take this." I looked at the next block, and found $110.

JOLIET WIVES

Joliet, Ill., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Rouge, lip stick, and eye make-up are no barriers to applicants for positions as housemaids, declared Mrs. Katherine Langdon, in charge of the women's division of the Illinois employment bureau.

"Maids who rouge their cheeks, paint their lips, roll their slick socks, and have their eyebrows plucked find places as rapidly as do the somber 'frowned girls of yesterday,'" Mrs. Langdon said.

"A laughing report has reached us that the housewives have said they would rather get along without help than employ these dolled up beauties, we have no complaint from them, we have placed. The girl who not only cooks well, but looks attractive, is a welcome addition to Joliet homes, and the good wages paid here are often an inducement to adorn herself and make the most of her charms."

DAWES DOESN'T DAMN, BUT OPERA FOLK GRASP HIM

Diagnoses Ills and Tells How to Cure Them.

More democracy in bearing the expenses and less democracy in management will be the salvation of the Chicago Grand Opera company, according to Gen. Charles G. Dawes, one of the board of directors, who spoke yesterday at the annual meeting of the Friends of Opera. Only a faint echo of the explosives the general used in his talk to the congressional committee a fortnight ago were heard yesterday, to the evident disappointment of the feminine portion of the membership, whose ears were all set for a few good damns.

But if they were disappointed at not being sworn at they were made to sit up and take notice, for after being assured by Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, chairman, that he could speak plainly the general did not mince words in telling the organization the truth about the past and present status of the opera company and what will be necessary to insure a successful future.

Must Cut Novelty List.
He said that the list of novelties which are produced each season would have to be cut materially and that the useless expenditure of money which has characterized the management in the past would have to stop. He praised the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCormick and said they had contributed a million dollars to the company during its ten years of existence. He told of its start by Mr. McCormick and himself and of its struggles and near failure several years ago when Mr. McCormick came to the rescue and saved it from bankruptcy.

Sure Garden Will Make Good.
He said "determined women with rustling skirts" could accomplish any and every thing and that he felt sure Mary Garden would make good if she were given a free rein. He advised their wives with revolvers, watchdogs and extra locks to protect their homes.

So numerous have been the activities of morons that there is hardly a block in Avalon Park which has not had its visit. Particularly revolting, according to citizens, are the activities of one man who has been arrested at least a dozen times in the last eight months on charges of indecency, disorderly conduct, and drunkenness. Each time he has been discharged or given a small fine and turned loose. Citizens of the subdivision have threatened him.

Arrested Various Times.
The man is George F. Donohue, of 329 Avalon avenue, a real estate salesman. Three police precincts, Grand Crossing, Burnside, and South Chicago, have records of his being arrested on various occasions, but late last night only one case of his having been fined could be discovered.

Last June Donohue was arrested at the instance of Mrs. Edith P. Shepherd, principal of the Avalon Park school at 8945 Kenwood avenue, on a charge of annoying school children and he was fined $25 and costs in the South Chicago court. In August he was arrested and identified by Mrs. Fred Van Seyoc, 7343 Kenwood avenue, as the man who rang her doorbell, conducted himself improperly and covered her porch with degrading pictures. On this charge he was fined $100 and costs in the Englewood court.

Two months later a man answering his description rang the bell at the home of Mrs. A. Rogers, a neighbor of Mrs. Van Seyoc's, living at 7927 Kenwood avenue, frightened her 20 year old daughter, and after he had fled pictures and writings of the same nature were found on the porch. The handwriting was identified by both Mrs. and Mrs. Van Seyoc as Donohue's, but Mrs. Rogers was never notified that Donohue had been arrested.

Last Sunday and Monday a man appeared on the porch of the home of Miss Marie Doherty, 7942 Luella avenue. On both instances he frightened the young girl, but escaped.

COURT TO DECIDE IF INCITER IS
'TRUE SLAYER'

Ottawa, Feb. 23.—The supreme court of Canada was called today to decide whether the necessary to a murder is guilty to a greater degree than the person who actually did the killing. The question arose in the case of Joseph Remillard, convicted of murder for making his son, Romeo, kill Lucien Morissette for alleged attentions to Joseph's mother.

After being found guilty of first degree murder, Joseph Remillard was sentenced to death, while the son was found guilty of manslaughter. The case came up on appeal from Quebec.

Yes, dear, and I'll get my revolver and then we'll switch on the porch light and see who it is."

This is the reception accorded strange visitors who make calls in near East Eighteenth street and Desplaines street station yesterday on a confidence game charge. Clipping had just sent a boy into a cigar store at Halsted street and Milwaukee avenue to cash a bogus check, when Policeman W. Murphy of the traffic squad turned into Halsted street on his horse. The horse shied at a piece of paper and dashed straight for the boy. Thinking the policeman was coming after him, Clipping took to his heels.

Murphy became suspicious and spurred his horse after the fugitive. He was being outdistanced when two other policemen intercepted Clipping.

At the station he confessed passing a number of worthless checks. He said the idea occurred to him when some one gave him a bogus check in a crap game.

$11,000,000 Great Lakes
Boat Line Gets Charter
A charter for an $11,000,000 corporation which will engage in the freight carrying traffic on the great lakes was filed yesterday at Dover, Del., by John C. Buckbee of Chicago, Albert D. Klize, Petoskey, Mich., and Jonathan B. John Newaway, Mich. The headquarters of the company, to be known as the Petoskey Transportation company, will be in Petoskey. Three vessels will be built and placed in commission this spring and the fleet will be enlarged as business warrants. According to Mr. Buckbee, the company will devote itself principally to carrying crushed stone, cement, and coal.

Great Lakes War Wireless Was Neatly Camouflaged
During the war visitors at Great Lakes Naval station were awed by the powerful wireless station there, the largest in the United States. Numerous guards patrolled the entrances and guarded the place from all sides. People would exclaim, "The secret messages of the war are sent from here." But yesterday it became known that the confidential wireless messages of this district were all sent from an obscure little house in a far corner of the station.

Lieut. Daniel Lynch of Desplaines street station chased a robber up a blind alley at Desplaines and Monroe streets early yesterday, then found nothing in the alley but a garbage can. The can moved. He turned it over and Charles Barnett, 6850 South Halsted street, rolled out. George Barnett, a sailor newly discharged from Great Lakes, charged Barnett had robbed him of $50.

Broke Up Family.
According to the police, the man had been intimate with Mrs. Sylvester for months, and it is believed that this brought about an estrangement between Stenike and his wife. He was living at the Bishop hotel.

Stenike declared in the letter that he had bought Mrs. Sylvester a fur coat and other articles. The name of the man who had won the woman from him was not revealed.

Turner was an innocent bystander, the police say.

BEG YOUR PARDON

THE TRIBUNE's report of the supposed elopement of Miss June Vivian George Witbold, identified the latter as "the son of Henry Witbold of the George Witbold company, florists, 747 Buckingham place." Henry Witbold withdrew from that concern some time ago and organized a concern doing business in Evanston and on East Randolph street. George Witbold is associated with his father in this concern, not in the other.

SHOOTS WOMAN AND CUSTOMER; KILLS HIMSELF

Cast Aside by Her, Letter Says.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Carl Stenike, a switchman here, tonight shot and perhaps fatally wounded Mrs. Ethel Sylvester, wife of a local grocer, wounded R. L. Turner, another grocer, then shot and killed himself. A letter addressed to the woman's husband, E. G. Sylvester, declares that Stenike and the Sylvester woman had been intimate for some time, and that she had turned him down for another man. Stenike was married and had two children.

The shooting occurred in the rear of Sylvester's grocery store. Mrs. Sylvester was showing some old shoes to Turner, who had come to the store to purchase them.

They had been in the basement of the store and were coming out through the rear door when Stenike, who had been in hiding, stepped forward and shot Mrs. Sylvester three times.

He then pointed the revolver at Turner and shot him down. The remaining shots in the revolver were fired into his own breast. He was dead when persons who heard the shots arrived.

Mrs. Sylvester and Turner were taken to the St. Charles hospital. A cursory examination revealed that the woman had been shot in the breast, right arm, and stomach. It is not believed she will live through the night. Turner was shot in the arm and chest. Three wounds were found in Stenike's chest.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

Today's Question.
What hour of your working day seems the longest?

Where Asked.
Jackson boulevard between Wells and La Salle streets.

Answers.
Miss Viola Hacker, 4533 Altgeld street, switchboard operator—No hour of the day is very long to me, as my work is so interesting. I cannot think of anything more fascinating and preoccupied than to connect up conversations. As people have to talk all the time it seems I never have a spare moment.

H. A. Loding, 111 North La Vergne avenue, chief clerk—The hours of the day are too short for the man who is in and out all day and has a certain amount of work to do in a specified time. None of my hours are long. I only wish they were not so short.

Florence Johnson, 1111 East Fifty-fourth place, secretary—My longest hour is between 12 and 1 o'clock. That is the time before I go to lunch. I am always very hungry and it seems as before that hour is up. I suppose the reason is that I am continually reminded of luncheon by people who are going in and coming out.

H. L. Damarin, 648 North La Vergne avenue, assistant superintendent—Every hour is the same to me, as I am so busy. The day is gone before I have time to notice any difference in the length of my working hours. There is nothing like work to make the time fly.

Lillian Felt, 777 Foxdale avenue, Winnetka, stenographer—There are no long hours during my working days. But there is one long hour during the day that I dread. The train is crowded and I generally have to stand up and believe me that is an hour with length!

FIRST DEFICIT IN 29 YEARS FOR QUAKER OATS CO.

By O. A. MATHER.

A record of twenty-nine years of satisfactory earnings was broken by the Quaker Oats company last year, thus further attesting the severity of business readjustment. The annual report for the year ended Dec. 31, 1920, shows a deficit of $5,052.42, compared with a surplus of $151,143 for 1919. The present deficit is made up of an operating loss of $5,218.97, depreciation charges of $40,561, and dividends paid totaling $2,272,000. The directors last week reduced the annual dividend rate from 12 to 6 per cent.

The deficit and a stock dividend of $1.50 a share nearly wiped out the company's surplus, which now is $1,174.74, compared with $11,565.58 at the end of 1919. Inventories show a reduction of about $4,000,000, a receivable decline of about $2,500,000, investments an increase of about $2,000,000, and notes payable an increase of about $2,000,000.

Here's Comparative Statement.

A further increase from $143,000,000 in 1919 to $148,000,000 in 1920 in the capital stock of the company has been recommended by the directors and will be voted on by the stockholders at the annual meeting at March 31 in Houston, Tex. The increase amounts to 10 per cent of the additional stock will be offered pro rata to stockholders of record April 29 at $10 per share, which is $25 a share. It is proposed that equal payments for new stock be made May 27 and July 8.

The prospective dividend is in line with the policy of the Texas company, which has been to pay dividends on a new stock every year to its shareholders well below the market value. The stock declined about two days yesterday with the announcement that about 41 of the prospective purchase of the stock represents a neat present to the stockholders.
